KILLS BANDIT IN MUCKERS

MYSTERY DEATH OF EX-PREMIER STIRS JAPANESE

End Comes as Vast Graft Is Bared.

BY ST. CLAIR M'KELWAY.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)
TOKYO, Sept. 30.—(Monday)—While most people continue to question the official announcement that the death of the former premier, Baron Gichi Tanaka, was due to heart failure, and some circles it was openly stated that it was suicide, caused by the recent political scandals, it seemed certain today that the event would go down in history as a mystery.
There are the facts that far removed from Tanaka's death, a Japanese at a fashionable restaurant in the Sumida river in Tokyo on Saturday night with 50 high party officials, when the political scandals and other scandalous party problems were discussed with frankness. After the banquet he repaired to the home of his wife, where at 5 o'clock on Sunday morning he died.
Body Hurled to Own Home.
The coroner's home was barred to the press, the public, and the police immediately. Baron Tanaka's body was hurried to his official residence, a 15 minute taxi ride distant, where at four later all high party officials gathered and held a long council.
At 11 a. m. his friends announced the sudden death of the former premier. At 1 p. m. a second statement was issued which said the death was caused by a violent heart stroke.
Baron Tanaka's official residence, 1,000,000 Bribe Charged.
For weeks Japan has been seething with the news of an increasing number of scandals which have been uncovered by the present Hamaguchi government and fastened on Tanaka's name.
The climax was reached last week when Hachiro Ogata, former minister of railroads, arrested and fined him $1,000,000 in connection with the award of permits for private railway construction.
Political speakers of Tanaka's party, who are pushing a campaign in the provinces, have been heckled down by unscrupulous crowds shouting, "We are not here to see the issues; what about the scandals?"
However, there has been no hint that Baron Tanaka was a beneficiary of the widespread graft and corruption which marked his administration. Even his bitterest foes admitted that the distinguished soldier and statesman had been betrayed by subordinates. Emperor Hirohito conferred posthumously the grand cordon of the order of the Sacred Treasure on his services to the empire.
First Blow at Emperor.
Behind all the scandal and heightening by Baron Tanaka's sudden death is the immeasurably more important fact that Japan's whole government is based on the ideal of the emperor as a supreme being who can do no wrong.
For the first time in recent history these high cabinet officials are open to the criticism of Japanese leaders for the possibility of the emperor's being only a man, and if this happened the world would understand why the imperial police act so diligently to squelch what are generally termed as "dangerous thoughts" of the proletariat.
SON OF A SERVANT.
Baron Gichi Tanaka, often called the "Mitsunobu of Japan," was born in 1858, the third son of a humble serf who was the feudal Lord Mori. Shortly after Tanaka's birth, however, the feudal system was abolished, and serfs and other members of household were freed. Tanaka was sent to a private school where he received a liberal education. He then went to military school, from which he graduated with a commission.
Baron Tanaka remained in the army, advancing to the commission of lieutenant general. He also was made a member of the general staff.
His good record as an army man brought him the portfolio of minister of war in the cabinets of the three emperors who preceded him, Hara, Kataniwa, and Wakatsuki. He gradually became more powerful and assumed the leadership of the imperial party.
At the fall of Wakatsuki's cabinet Tanaka was called to take over the government. While premier he changed the policy of the government toward China, criticized American immigration, and ruled with a bold hand. He made many enemies who at various times attempted his assassination. He died as premier July 2.

SHIP $75,000,000 IN SECURITIES BY U. S. AIR MAIL
Oakland, Cal., Sept. 29.—(AP)—An air mail shipment of securities valued at more than $75,000,000, consisting of certificates of Trans-America corporation, left Oakland airport tonight for delivery Tuesday in New York City. The shipment was carried by Boeing Air Transport transcontinental air mail. The securities were carried in 15,000 letters and represent a 150 per cent stock dividend for shareholders of the bank living east of the Mississippi river.

CHURCH EDITOR EXCORIATED BY CARTER GLASS

Chicago Man Flayed in Cannon Case.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Wanton perversion of the truth in an editorial attempt to defend the stock gambling and war time food hoarding activities of Bishop James Cannon Jr., Methodist minister, south, dry leader, was charged against Dr. Charles C. Morrison, editor of the Christian Century, by Senator Carter Glass, (Dem., Va.) in a letter made public today.
In the letter to Dr. Morrison, dated Sept. 6, the Virginia senator, himself a lifelong Methodist, as well as one of the outstanding drys in the senate, assailed "the distressing methods now being employed to make the single righteous cause of prohibition a cloak for inconceivable immorality," which, he added, "makes those of us who were prohibitionists long before others were hipped to be rather ashamed of our comradeship in a movement that deserves a better fate."
Senator Quoted Scripture.
Rebuking Dr. Morrison for "the remarkable casuistry" employed in his defense of the bishop, Senator Glass directed the former's attention to the obvious contrast between the bishop's activities as recently exposed and the high standard of conduct set for bishops by St. Paul in the third chapter of his first epistle to Timothy, as follows:
"A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behavior, given to hospitality, apt to teach;
"Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;
"One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity; [for if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?]"
Glass Receives Copies.
"Someone," the senator wrote to Dr. Morrison, "was good enough yesterday to send me copies of the Christian Century of last July 17 and Aug. 21, containing articles on the subject of Bishop Cannon's stock gambling activities in an outlawed New York bucket shop, and his hoarding and profiteering in foodstuffs during the war."
"On page 4,000 of your issue of Aug. 21, concerning the unqualified condemnation by the federal food administration of Bishop Cannon's food hoarding and profiteering during the world war, you say:
"The fact that Senator Carter Glass made an ex parte statement to the food administration, no opportunity being given to the most interested party to state his side of the case, and secured a ruling that Bishop Cannon was morally, if not legally, guilty of food hoarding, is a fact about which Senator Glass and not a fact about Bishop Cannon."
"It happens not to be a fact about Senator Glass. It is not a fact about anybody. It is a wanton perversion of the truth."
"The ruling of the federal food administration was based on the very text of Bishop Cannon's own statement of his case."
"When found out he attempted a justification of his act in a letter to a state official, every word of which was transmitted by me to Mr. Herbert Hoover, then federal food administrator. It was on the text of this letter of Bishop Cannon that the chief enforcement rendered an opinion, concurred in by Mr. Hoover, explicitly condemning Bishop Cannon as a hoarder and profiteer in food stuffs, in contravention of the law and of all moral conception of decency."
"Why the Christian Century should have considered it desirable to reduce the quantity of flour consumed per barrel by Bishop Cannon from 60 barrels to 400 barrels, and from an actual three years' supply and consumed one and a half years' supply (never a tag of it reaching the larger of Blackstone college) is something that requires no explanation from me."

J. A. HOLABIRD'S DAUGHTER DIES ON OCEAN LINER

JEAN Holabird, 11 year old daughter of John A. Holabird, architect, of the firm of Holabird & Root, died suddenly at sea on Saturday while returning with her mother from a vacation abroad, according to a message received here yesterday. The cause of her illness was not given in the radio message, received from the Italian line Conte Colonna, on which the child was a passenger. The boat has not yet docked at New York.
Jean and her mother, the former Dorothy Hackett, left for Europe early in August, relatives said last night. They were accompanied by Mrs. Holabird's father, Karlenton Hackett, Chicago newspaperman, and had spent several weeks traveling in France and Italy. They sailed for home from Naples, and it was at first expected that they would arrive in Chicago today.
Mr. Holabird had gone to New York to meet the boat, which has been delayed for some reason, and was advised there by radio that his daughter had been taken ill suddenly and died two days later. A telephone message from him last night was to the effect that the Conte Colonna might not dock until Wednesday, and that he had had no further details of Jean's illness.
Jean was the eldest of three children and the only girl in the family. The Holabird home is at 2242 Lincoln Park West.
HAWAII ROCKED BY 25 QUAKES IN TWENTY HOURS
HILLO, Hawaii, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Earthquakes continued today to rock the island of Hawaii. The populace was awakened at 5 a. m. by a quake lasting half an hour and reported strong all over the island.
The volcano observatory reported 25 tremors between noon yesterday and 8 a. m. today, one of which dismantled part of the instruments. The heaviest were estimated to be fifteen to 25 miles away, while the smaller were said to have originated 35 to 40 miles away, showing a wide variance in the seismic activity. Thomas A. Jaggar, volcanologist, predicted that the most severe quakes are yet to be expected.

Goodenough of Illinois U. Dies Suddenly

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Prof. George A. Goodenough, of the University of Illinois, chairman of the western conference faculty committee on athletics and head of the Big Ten eligibility board, was found dead at his home here today. Death was caused by heart disease.
Going to the study to summon him to breakfast at 7 a. m., his wife found Prof. Goodenough's body slumped in a chair before his desk, where he had seated himself less than an hour before.
The family physician said that the professor, who was 61 years of age, had been in poor health since last summer, when he suffered a stroke of paralysis.
Prominent Athletic Arbiter.
Mr. Goodenough, professor of thermodynamics at the university, had been well known in engineering and educational circles, but was chiefly prominent for his work as arbiter in Big Ten athletic affairs. He was chairman of western conference faculty committees on both athletics and eligibility, being Illinois' representative on the former since 1924.
He was the outstanding figure in the strife surrounding the ousting of the University of Iowa from the Big Ten after a meeting of the committee on athletics on May 25 of this year at Chicago.
Twenty-three years of arbitration were concluded last Friday, when Prof. Goodenough announced the eligibility of Alan Holman, star quarter back at Ohio State university.
Authority on Engineering.
Prof. Goodenough was recognized as an authority on mechanical engineering. He compiled tables on steam power, regarded as accurate, and valuable statistics on the properties of steam engines, and was author of many technical books, including "Principles of Thermodynamics." He contributed the chapter on thermodynamics to "The American Civil Engineers' Hand Book" and was co-author of "Essentials in Calculus" and "First Course in Calculus."
Born on May 8, 1868, at Davidson, Mich., he attended Flint High school and received a bachelor of science degree at Michigan Agricultural college. He was graduated with a master's degree in mechanical engineering at the University of Illinois in 1900, one year after he had joined the faculty. He was acting head of the department of mechanical engineering at the University of Illinois in 1903 and 1910.
Survived by Widow.
Prof. Goodenough was married to Miss Elizabeth C. Kitzmiller in 1894 at Scranton, Pa. The widow and one son, Arthur, of Peru, Ill., survive.

ROB THEATER MAN IN HIS HOME AFTER KIDNAPING ASSISTANT

Two robbers early this morning obtained $1,000 of the receipts of the Music Box theater, a recently opened movie house at 3723 Southport avenue, after kidnaping and beating the assistant manager and forcing him to take them to the home of the manager, Benjamin Laaker, 215 Winona avenue, where they found most of the money.
The assistant manager, Clarence Balder, 2824 North Marshall avenue, had closed the theater and was walking to his home when the robbers seized him at Addison street and Ashland avenue. They blindfolded him and took him back to the theater where he gave up $71 that was in a desk.
When Laaker found out the robbers had closed the theater and was walking back to the door with their guns pointed at their prisoners, and escaped.
Laaker is a member of the firm of Jacob Laaker & Sons, operators of a chain of movie houses.
educator and arbiter was commended by his associates, all of whom express their sorrow in his death. George Huff, director of athletics, and Robert Zupke, football coach, said: "Prof. Goodenough has been an exceedingly fair-minded judge in Big Ten affairs during his long regime."

Movie Robber Slain Fleeing with $4,500

A shooting drama was enacted last night in the lobby of McVickers theater, 15 West Madison street, one of the loop's largest motion picture houses, as 3,000 patrons watched a scene of jungle warfare on the screen. A trimly clad bandit, the same from a scene of the same film, was shot and fatally wounded as he was fleeing from the treasurer's office with $4,500.
The bandit was caught in a trap arranged for just such an emergency. The door through which he tried to make his escape was equipped with two doorknobs, one of which was false. The robber's slayer, Babe Cobb, 25 years old, assistant manager of the theater, fired three times through a peephole which was focused upon the door with the false knob.
Theater Ready for Robbers.
The false knob and peephole had been arranged by the theater executives because of the many holdups of loop theaters in which robbers had made their escape with little difficulty after taking large sums.
Cobb fired three shots through the peephole, all three bullets taking effect in the back of the bandit's head. He died on the way to the county hospital.
The robbery and shooting took place at 10:15 p. m. The house was packed and a line was standing outside waiting for the last show of the evening. Cobb was taking the girl cashiers up to the treasurer's office on the mezzanine floor one at a time. Each one turned over receipts to be locked in a safe.
Victim Recognizes Robber.
Cobb had just escorted Miss Doris Cahill, one of the cashiers, to the treasurer's office. He departed and the door was locked with a chain behind him. As he turned, he felt a gun pressed to his side. He looked up to recognize the same bandit who had held him up and several others in the cashier's office of the Chicago theater on Oct. 7, 1928, and escaped with $7,100.
"Open the door," growled the bandit. Cobb turned and opened the door. The chain prevented its opening more than a few inches. Urged on by the robber, Cobb called to D. R. Kennedy, the cashier, to let him in. Kennedy did so and the bandit followed Cobb in. A fourth occupant of the room was B. Hansen, theater secretary.
Herds Four Into Inner Room.
In an inner room was the safe. The bandit herded Cobb, Miss Cahill, Hansen, and Kennedy into this room.
"Now," said the bandit to Cobb, "open that safe."
"I can't," pleaded the assistant manager. "See the sign? No one but the Brink's Express company can open it."
The bandit snarled, pointing his revolver at each of the four in turn. Then he caught up a canvas bag with his left hand and swept a pile of currency and silver on the table into the bag.
"Don't move for five minutes," warned the bandit. He opened the door quickly, stepped out, and was gone.
Cobb jerked a gun from his pocket. He swept the wooden slide from the peephole and peered through.
Trapped by Fake Door Knob.
On the outer door the double door knob had been fixed as a precaution. The robber fumbled at the false knob for several seconds without opening the door. The door was fatal to him. Cobb poked his gun through the peephole and fired three times. The shots, fired at such close range, all took effect. The robber had the door half open as he slumped to the floor. Ever since the Chicago theater

SHEARER USED AS UNOFFICIAL AID TO PRESS

European Nations Had Official Leaks.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The Shearer revelations already have become the most illuminating occurrence on the Washington scene in many years.
They have shown up numerous captains of industry who employed Shearer as extremely glib and childlike individuals and they have revealed our diplomats as the veriest innocents abroad in coping with the wiles of European diplomats.
To understand what Shearer did to the navy limitation conference of 1927 and the claims which Shearer made of bringing about its failure in the interest of his shipbuilding employers, it is necessary to understand the mechanics of European diplomacy, with which our country became acquainted with unfortunate results at the Washington arms conference of 1921-22.
How Secrets Got Out.
An important adjunct of an European delegation negotiating a treaty or other understanding is the "official leak." The official negotiators are pledged on their word of honor not to reveal the negotiations day by day to the press. They keep their word technically. But they reveal the negotiations to a trusted unofficial aid brought with them to the scene of operations to perform the function of "official leak." Thereupon the "official leak" communicates the information to the newspaper correspondents, making care, of course, to color it with the construction favorable to his country. Thus the delegation influences public opinion to support its position in the conference.
Tried "Unofficial Leak."
The United States, although it has been a party to these international conferences repeatedly since the world war, never has maintained an "official leak" to the press for the purpose of getting its cause before the public during the negotiations. But, having been overtaken repeatedly by European diplomats in this means of influencing public opinion, the American delegation at the Geneva conference resorted to the use of not an official but an unofficial leak, who happened to be none other than William B. Shearer.
While members of the British delegation were divulging the proceedings, with British interpretations, through their "official leak," the members of the American delegation, having no regularly constituted "official leak," had recourse to Shearer to communicate the information from the American point of view to the press.
It thus fell out that as a result of the virtuous repugnance of the United States to providing an "official leak" of recognized responsibility and singleness of purpose, the American delegation, casting about for a substitute, found a candidate for the role in the man who happened to be the paid lobbyist of the shipbuilding companies.
Made Use of Services.
Whether the members of the American delegation knew that Shearer was the lobbyist of the shipbuilding companies has not been disclosed up to date. There evidently was ample reason for them to suspect it. In any event they found themselves in a position in which they felt compelled to take advantage of his services as an unofficial "leak" to get the American cause before the public as the British were getting the British cause before the public by means of their "official leak."
The action of the American delegates at Geneva in disclosing the proceedings indirectly to the press as the Europeans were doing created the greatest consternation in European chancelleries. The Europeans had been doing it right along, but never before had the Americans divulged the pledge of secrecy of negotiations. This was disconcerting to the Europeans and denounced as downright dishonest. Nature abhors a vacuum as more than a diplomat abhors a leak—when it's on the wrong side.
The British, through their official leak, had got their case for small cruisers versus big cruisers pretty well before the public and were making great progress in gathering support in America when the members of the American delegation, acting through Shearer, began to get the American press for big headlines against small readers on the side of the Atlantic.

Ambassador Complains.
This was so much for the British—nothing short of a rebuke. The British ambassador, Sir Eric Lothian, was extremely red of countenance and inarticulate of expression. Arriving at the Geneva conference, he was stamped in high dudgeon and gave vent to curious and unbecoming observations. When he had cooled off sufficiently to make himself understood, he related a tale, according to the contemporaneous account, that left the embassy attaches aghast and gasping for breath.

Secretary Kellogg, it appears, upon hearing the complaint of Sir Eric, had burst into laughter right in the face of his majesty's ambassador. The extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary observed that if the British were getting the worst of it at Geneva, the reason of the official leaking of the confidential negotiations was not more than the United States had suffered from the British operations in this line. Mr. Kellogg seemed to find great satisfaction in this turning of the tables and Sir Eric was able to get no satisfaction.

Falls to Make Progress.
That the American government should be indulging in a practice that Great Britain and other European governments had made their own was shocking and deplorable, according to the view of the British ambassador, who, however, was unable to report to his government any progress in getting an end to conduct so execrable on the part of a high principled nation.

There is no intimation that Mr. Kellogg knew that Shearer was the person by means of whom the American case into the hands of the press as the British were getting publicity for their case through their official leak. All he knew, apparently, was that the Americans had at last backtracked the British in the matter of conference publicity.

The Americans first became acquainted with the institution of the "official leak" at the Washington conference. Every delegation to the American had its "official leak" who transmitted to the press what was happening behind the doors of the conference room.

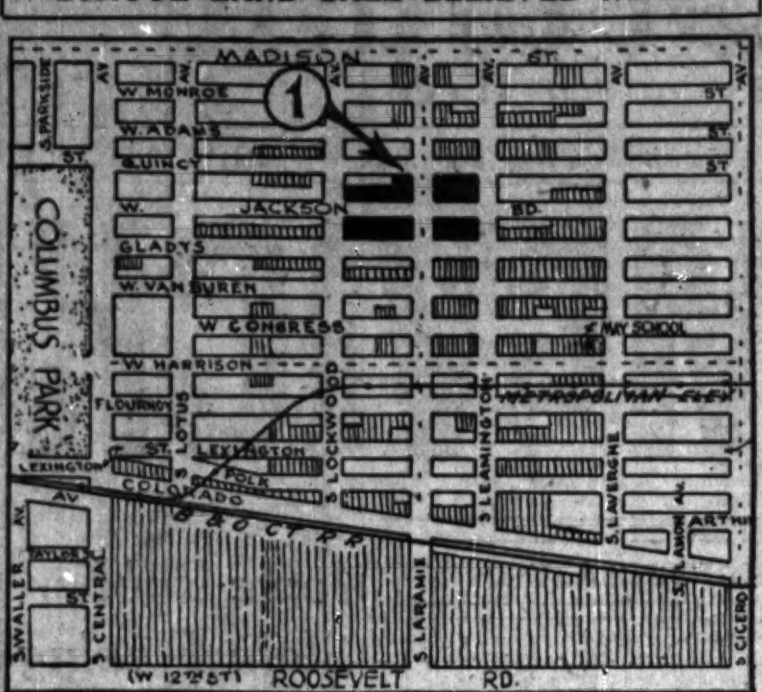

Lord Riddell Served.
The most famous "official leak" of the Washington conference was Lord Riddell of Great Britain, publisher of the malicious scandal sheet, News of the World, who had been enabled by his friend, Lloyd George, then British prime minister. Lord Riddell accompanied the British delegation to the Geneva conference, but in no official capacity.

Not much attention was paid to him until a few days after the conference had been in progress. The newspaper correspondents from London, Mr. Hughes, head of the American delegation, and other delegates that they were sworn to secrecy and could divulge none of the proceedings. But they leaked about the same time that Lord Riddell knew everything that was taking place behind the closed doors and was not averse to inserting some of his information together with British arguments in support of the British stand on the various points at issue.

With Mr. Hughes and other American delegates promptly refusing to reveal the details of the negotiations, Lord Riddell within a week became the chief source of day to day and hour to hour news of the conference. He found himself in complete command of the publicity of the conference. The British delegates were no less punctilious than Mr. Hughes in guarding information to the press but they freely advised Lord Riddell of developments and Lord Riddell did the rest. He was quick to perceive the advantages that the Americans were apparently willing to accord the British and forthwith he organized a daily conference with the representatives of the press in which he passed out information on the progress of the conference together with insidious British propaganda.

Feethead of News.
As it turned out, Lord Riddell was a veritable fountain head of information on the inside story of the conference from day to day. The American delegates were as communicative as stone images. They had no Lord Riddell. Even when Mr. Hughes was told that Lord Riddell was openly disseminating the news of the conference, he was not averse to supporting the British viewpoint he took no steps to get the American case before the public. In addition he had named the navy general board the members of which were thereby intimidated from denouncing the inequitable

FORECAST SALE OF AUSTIN TRACT BY SCHOOL BOARD

Would Increase Revenue and Open Up District.

BY CARL WARREN.

Proposals to sell and lease 190 acres of public school land in Austin, opening up that district for apartment building development and giving the board of education money to help relieve its financial strain, will come before the board for action within the next two or three weeks.

From authoritative sources yesterday it was learned that approval of the proposals, which now are pending before the board, would be reflected in a virtually certain. President Caldwell has contemplated disposal of the land for a long time but has lacked the necessary votes of two-thirds of the board's membership. With the recent appointment of Trustees Lewis E. Myers and Carter Blatchford, the required majority now is believed assured.

The Austin property is in the territory bounded by Roosevelt road, Madison street, and Cleo and Central avenues. Its value has been estimated at $5,000,000 to $6,000,000.

Austin business and civic organizations for several years have urged the board to release the land, pointing out that the big checkerboard of vacant property retards the community's development.

Bogan Letter Revives Plan.
In 1925 Mr. Caldwell named a committee of real estate men to investigate the plan. The members were B. F. Lindheimer, Paul Steinbrecher, Harrison B. Riley, and Albert H. Wetten. On July 8, 1929, they recommended disposal of the land, but Trustees Helen Heffner succeeded in having action deferred until fall.

Last Wednesday Sup. Bogan revived the plan with a communication asking that the land be sold, with thirty acres reserved as sites for a junior high school and a municipal college. Mr. Bogan's letter will be taken up, together with the real estate committee recommendation, by the buildings and grounds committee next Thursday.

Members of the real estate group estimate the value of the land to be sold, approximately 29,801 feet of frontage, at $5,502,317. This would comprise 598 units suitable for three-story apartment buildings costing about $50,000 each. Fully developed, the land and buildings, the report states, would be worth $53,342,317. This would bring in a tax revenue of $114,500 from 200 clients, mostly hotel maids and housekeepers. Mrs. Pote, who said she was left destitute when her children when her husband was taken into custody, said yesterday that she was unable to explain what her husband had done with the money. Pote submitted to arrest and has since been aiding agents of his former employer and the bonding company to tabulate the sum of his pecuniations.

BASEMENTS ARE FLOODED, CARS DELAYED BY RAIN

Hundreds of basements were flooded and the Chicago Surface Lines reported many street cars to avoid flooded viaducts as a result of the heavy rain fall late Saturday and early yesterday. The weather bureau reported a fall of 1.15 inches for the 24 hours ended at 7 a. m., and a slight fall thereafter. Street car officials said they encountered the most trouble between 61st and 79th streets and east of Michigan avenue. So many householders came upon the fire department to pump out their basements that the equipment proved inadequate and the pumping service was suspended altogether. To day will be fair and continued cool, according to Forecaster C. A. Donnel.

RUSSIAN PLANE ON ITS WAY TO NEW YORK SAFE AT SITKA, ALASKA

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Dispelling the fears which had been felt for its safety throughout the afternoon, the Russian plane Land of the Soviets, en route from Moscow to New York, landed at Sitka, Alaska, at 5:48 p. m. today. It covered the distance of nearly 600 miles in 7 hours and 37 minutes. Arrival of the plane at Sitka was reported by the naval radio station at Bremerton, Wash.

Cable dispatches to the Associated Press said the flyers were greeted at Sitka by the entire population of the town, which was the capital of Alaska during Russian occupation. They were presented with a huge bouquet by a bevy of girls of Russian descent. The Rev. G. G. Prosser, pastor of the Russian church at Sitka, greeted the flyers on their arrival.

be erected upon it. These buildings would add another $10,000 annually to the tax revenue, a grand total of $1,000,000.

"This does not take into consideration the hundreds of thousands of dollars of appreciation to the surrounding property which would be reflected in additional taxes," the report points out.

"In addition to this there would undoubtedly be a stimulation in building along Madison street which would further increase the appreciation of taxes and building values on this property."

At present, according to the school board officials, the Austin property brings in no revenue. It is held simply as a speculation. As viewed by the real estate group, its development, both now and in the future, will be more profitable than its retention.

CHINA TO ELUDE GUARDS OF JAPAN BY NEW RAILWAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]
HARBIN, Sept. 28.—Due to the refusal of the Japanese to permit Chinese soldiers to pass through the Japanese concession, Chan-Chun, Chinese directors of the Chinese Eastern railway yesterday awarded a contract to construct six miles of railway, connecting the Chinese Eastern railway tracks and the tracks of a Chinese-owned line from Ki. n to Chan-Chun. The purpose is to provide direct railway communication between Kirin, capital of Kirin province, and Harbin and the main line of the Chinese Eastern railway, reaching the Chinese frontiers of Manchouli and Pogranichnyay.

The contract provides for the expenditure of about $100,000 and must be completed prior to Dec. 1. The Japanese have a large military force in Chan-Chun, the junction of the Chinese Eastern railway with the Japanese line.

ISSUES DECIDED ON GOLF COURSE AT WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—[Special.]—A new social club composed of senators, cabinet members and former government officials whose influence is reflected occasionally in legislation has arisen in Washington. It is known as the Thirty-two club, and holds its meetings thirty-two times a year at least, and often if possible.

The scheduled meetings are on Sunday mornings and holidays, and the actual purpose of the club is to play golf in eight foursomes. The members gather at the Burning Tree Golf club at 438 a. m., and after a quick breakfast the game begins.

Following the play the members usually linger long enough to discuss pending public questions. And it is said that many controversial subjects are decided there and that more compromises are arranged among its members, who include senators of both parties, than in senate cloakrooms.

C. Bascom Slemp and Judge J. Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, formed the club. Claudius H. Hunton, the new chairman of the Republican national committee, is the newest member. Four members of the cabinet are on the rolls.

FLORIDA STORM IS ROARING ON TO PENSACOLA

Rescue 31 from Steamer in Hurricane.

BULLETIN.
New Orleans, La., Sept. 29.—(AP)—A message telling of the rescue of twenty-nine men, the crew of the steamship Wisconsin Bridge, the master of the vessel and the only passenger, in the Florida Gulf near Abaco island today was received tonight from the captain of the steamship Carleton of New Orleans by the Tampa-Intercoastal company, owners of the latter vessel. The message, sent by Capt. John E. Fish of the Carleton, said nothing of the intensity of the hurricane.

BULLETIN.
Daytona Beach, Fla., Sept. 29.—(U.P.)—The west coast watched falling barometers gravely today as wind approached hurricane force. The reading here was 29.80, with wind at 35 miles an hour and increasing rapidly. Sarasota reported 29.4, with a 44 mile wind, and St. Petersburg 29.39, with wind at 50 miles an hour due east.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—(AP)—The 4 p. m. advisory report of the tropical bureau indicated that the tropical storm center was still moving westward about 10 miles an hour.

"Storm warning changed to hurricane," said the bureau. Tropical storm still moving westward about 10 miles an hour, and its center will likely cross the coast between Apalachicola and Key West some time Monday, attended by winds of hurricane force near center.

The report said that unless the storm changes its course the center will reach the coast between Apalachicola and mouth of Mississippi river Monday, with winds of hurricane force near center.

The text of the storm warning issued this morning was as follows: "Advisory northeast storm warnings displayed 10 a. m. west of Pensacola to Port Eads and warnings changed to small craft gale for Key West and south of Key West to Fort Myers and to southeast storm warnings Tampa section."

"Tropical storm central about 100 miles west of Fort Myers moving westward about 10 miles an hour. These storm changes course center will reach coast between Apalachicola and mouth of Mississippi river Monday, with winds of hurricane force near center."

Pensacola Boards Up.
Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 29.—(U.P.)—Pensacola will be struck by the approaching hurricane, the hardest blow experienced in the history of this section, weather bureau observers said today.

Fishing, and railroad officials completed rapid preparations for the gale. Carpenters rushed from house to house boarding up windows and conditioning buildings.

Miami Sends Help.
Miami, Fla., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Relief work, as an aftermath of strong gales that swept the South Florida coast last Friday night and Saturday, was continued tonight in the Homestead area, 25 miles south of here, where wind and water caused considerable damage, but apparently spared human life.

Sheriff M. P. Lehman of Dade county reached here today after a hazardous drive over inundated highways strewn with fallen poles and trees. He reported Homestead, with a population of 5,000, was flooded to a depth of from one to two feet.

Most of the damage at Miami Beach was done to roofs on unsubstantially built homes, trees, yachts in Biscayne bay, and water soaked goods in business establishments whose windows were blown out. At Coral Gables, a suburb of Miami, four houses were wrecked and three others damaged.

Three Dead in Hurricane.
Tampa, Fla., Sept. 29.—(U.P.)—Three lives were lost during the visit of the Bahamas hurricane to the lower Florida peninsula, according to reports today. Two persons were killed at Lakeland when they touched live wires. One victim was reported at Sarasota.

Warn New Orleans.
New Orleans, La., Sept. 29.—(U.P.)—The New Orleans weather bureau today issued storm warnings for the portion of the Gulf coast from West Pensacola, Fla., to Port Eads, La., 100 miles south of New Orleans at the mouth of the Mississippi river. "Every precaution should be taken in New Orleans and vicinity against winds of destructive force," the warning read.

Coast Guard to Rescue.
Norfolk, Va., Sept. 29.—(AP)—The coast guard today ordered two powerful cutters sent to the east coast of Florida hurricane area, where two steamers are aground and a third was sending out SOS calls late today. The vessels around are the Danish tank steamer Scandia and the American steamer Garnet Hullings. The Italian steamer Salina was reported as on Montserrat reef.

Trying to Save Ship's Crew.
Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 29.—(AP)—The Radio Marine corporation reported today that the steamer E. J. Sadler is standing by the tanker Hullings, which is aground ten miles south of Gun Cay in the Bahamas islands. The Sadler reported it was attempting to take off the crew.

WOMAN IN AUTO PLUNGES TO DEATH IN RIVER

Raising sedan in which Mrs. Dolly Moore was drowned in the north branch of the Chicago river, off Goose Island, last night. Frank Ling of Oak Park, who was her companion, escaped through an open window of the car. (TRIBUNE Photo.)

AUTO DIVES IN RIVER; WOMAN PASSENGER DIES

Driver Climbs Out to Safety.

Driving west in Rees street, a narrow, crooked and ill lighted lane through the industrial section of the near north side, a motorist drove his sedan down a steep embankment into the Chicago river east of Goose Island last night.

The driver, Frank Ling, 37 years old, 500 South Lyman avenue, Oak Park, sprang through the open window as the car sank in 15 feet of water, swam ashore and summoned help.

The submerged car was raised an hour later by a wrecking truck and a woman's body was found in the front seat.

Victim Identified.
She was identified as Dolly Moore, 30 years old, a divorcee, 1050 Hillgrove avenue, La Grange. A sister, Mrs. Anna Overy, 102 Park road, La Grange, said the victim had also lived at several Chicago addresses in the last month.

In a scarcely less spectacular accident at the Northwest highway in Des Plaines yesterday, a year old Richard Walendziewicz was hurled twenty feet from an overturning car and killed in sight of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Walendziewicz, 2456 North Monticello avenue, who were following in another car. The boy had chosen to ride with his uncle, Tony Walendziewicz, a motorist with only a month of driving experience.

The two deaths enumerated and three others raised Cook county's motor toll of 1929 to 666. The other victims: Frank Mielczak, 69 years old, 6213

West 20th place, Cicero. Died in the Berwyn hospital of internal injuries incurred Thursday when struck by a hit and run motorist at 52d avenue and 31st street, Cicero.

Frank Almanas, 35 years old, a resident of Des Plaines. He died in the county hospital of a skull fracture suffered Saturday night when run down by a motorist as he was walking home along the Northwest highway in a fog. The driver, Herbert Hudson, also of Des Plaines, was questioned and released.

Louis Filigardo, 30 years old, 433 South Honore street. Killed when his truck was struck by a Yellow cab at Canal and Adams streets early this morning. The cab driver, John Pritsker, 1311 North Dearborn street, was held.

An unidentified man about 55 years old, was struck and killed by a hit and run motorist early this morning at 30th street and Cottage Grove avenue.

An unidentified colored woman was run over and killed at Michigan avenue and 39th street. The driver of the car, Richard Pfister, 449 East 62d street, was held.

Woman and Girl Hurt.
In a collision yesterday at Dempster and Niles center roads, Mrs. Frank Munson, 58 years old, 1483 Byron street, was seriously hurt and her 16 year old niece, Gwendolyn Brown, 4231 North Lincoln street, suffered cuts which may scar her limbs for life. Niles center police said Floyd Owen, 5241 North Kilpatrick avenue, Niles center, had run through a stop light and collided with the car driven by Frank Munson. Owen was jailed.

Three students of the University of Chicago were seriously injured before daybreak as they were pushing their disabled car north in Jeffery avenue at 78th street. Another motorist collided with their car from behind, pinning them between bumpers. He backed away and drove on.

The injured students were taken to the Jackson Park hospital, all suffering fractured limbs. They are Joseph Ritcher, 21 years old, 5540 Woodlawn avenue; Fred Morrissey, 24 years old, 6148 Woodlawn avenue, and Charles Carpenter, 21 years old, 6227 Woodlawn avenue.

Pulpit Appeals for Caution Open Chicago Safety Week

Chicago Safety Week was opened yesterday with appeals to the citizens from pulpits throughout the city. Preacher, priest and rabbi added his voice to the general admonitions. Further action comes today when the National Safety council opens its annual congress at the Stevens hotel with some 7,000 delegates from all sections of the United States, Canada and Europe in attendance. The sessions are to last five days.

Toshum Gamo of Tokio, managing director of the Japanese Industrial Welfare society and director of the Nippon Safety society, was the first foreign delegate to the congress to arrive in Chicago. He registered yesterday at the Stevens hotel. The keynote address of the congress is to be given at 11 a. m. today by Dr. T. G. Soave of the University of Chicago.

Raps Drivers of Junk Cars.
Among those who exhorted the people to more caution and common sense in an effort to cut down particularly automobile accidents and fatalities, was the Rev. Clinton C. Cox of the Drexel Park Presbyterian church. He laid stress on the reckless youthful drivers of "junk automobiles," parents who, through animosity and contempt for motorists, encourage their children to run in the streets and defy drivers, and employers who urge truck drivers to maintain reckless speed schedules in the city. "The old junk $15 automobile is a menace because it had been found that the man with nothing to lose is usually the man who takes chances," the Rev. Mr. Cox said in his sermon.

Lists "Hot Heads" with Drunks.
"Driving while intoxicated is considered a crime under the law, but I would place the hot-headed driver in the class with the drunken driver. Safety isn't a matter of legislation and motorcycle police. It is a matter of attitude. Accidents today may be attributed to three main reasons: ignorance, carelessness and thoughtlessness."

"We are quick to blame women drivers and I will admit that they have their faults, but I do not believe they are deliberate law breakers." The Rev. Joseph Burrows of the Wheaton Methodist Episcopal church in Evanston, was another who made his text on Safety week.

"The more we cultivate a genius for safety, the more efficient will our civilization become," he said. "There is an economic as well as a humane value in this great program of safety."

WARDEN SLAIN IN SWAMP NOT FAR FROM BROADWAY

Trying to Make Arrest;
Killer Is Known.

New York, Sept. 29.—[Special.]—William T. Cramer, a state game warden, was shot and killed this morning as he was trying to make an arrest. The murder took place in a swampy woods bearing the name of "Idlewild" and situated on Garfield street and South Parkway Park, Jamaica, and less than a mile from Broadway by train. Tonight, after a day of investigation, the police were questioning a number of men regarding the crime, done to what is a fine. They had as clues the name and address of one man, although not the slayer—the description of the man who is wanted, an angry shotgun shell and a beagle dog. "Idlewild" entered the province of the state conservation bureau several weeks ago when residents around its borders complained of the hunting; the woods sheltered no game larger than an occasional squirrel. Cramer and Joseph S. Allen, another warden, were assigned to investigate. They arrived at the woods today and searched the marshes. There was a shot. A hundred yards away, in a small clearing, stood a tall Italian. He told the two wardens he was Joseph Lantini, 42 years old, of Brooklyn. He was arrested. Then, as the two were starting out of the woods, he came another shot. They saw a second man. He did not speak until they were less than ten feet away; then he shouted something in Italian. The prisoner replied. The second poacher raised his shotgun to his shoulder, aimed at Cramer, and fired. The warden was killed at once instantly. Warden Allen wounded Cramer's assistant, but lost out in a hand-to-hand encounter and both law violators escaped.

BRITISH PREMIER SPENDS SUNDAY ALONE ON OCEAN

Remains in Cabin Resting Most of Time.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BOARD S. S. BERENGARIA, Sept. 29.—(By Radio.)—The Atlantic was calm as the Berengaria speeded toward America today. Prime Minister MacDonald spent most of the day resting in the imperial suite. He was up early and took a walk on the deck, and for a time sat aft with his daughter, Isabel, reading, but later retired to his cabin, where he remained most of the day.

A large crowd of passengers were at church service this morning in anticipation of seeing the prime minister at close quarters, but he failed to appear, as did also his daughter, Mr. MacDonald is a Scotch Presbyterian and it was suggested that perhaps he did not care for the Church of England ritual. Service was read by Capt. Sir Arthur Roston and Purser F. E. Owen.

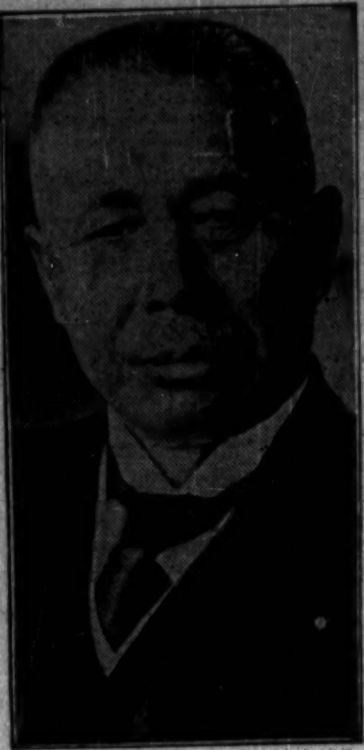

Isabel and Rose Dunsen. Isabel spent much of the time walking the deck, and last night she and Rose Rosenberg, the prime minister's private secretary, spent some of their time dancing in the ballroom. Mr. MacDonald today received a gift copy of "Ship Ahey," a book of which Commander J. G. P. Bissett, chief officer of the Berengaria, is author.

For the first time in history the portrait of a British prime minister is being painted on the ocean. Among the passengers on the Berengaria is Tom Van One, noted portrait painter, who has been commissioned by Lord Delaware, under secretary of war, to paint Mr. MacDonald's portrait. Because of the pressure of business, it was decided that the best chance for the sittings was to have the artist accompany the prime minister, and Mr. MacDonald has consented to give him a one hour sitting daily. Today's first sitting was postponed, as Mr. Van One was suffering from a rather rough sea in the morning.

France Fights Over Farley. PARIS, Sept. 29.—(U. P.)—French nervousness in regard to the forthcoming five power naval conference for limitation of arms became more apparent tonight as the Quai d'Orsay recalled the expected British foreign office communiqué calling the powers together, probably in January.

Naval experts here have shown considerable uncertainty in connection with the question of reduction of submarine strength. It is considered certain that the proposed five power conference will find the position of France as well as that of Italy a delicate one to coordinate with other reduction plans. With Great Britain and the United States virtually at an accord on limitation and with Japan believed likely to fall in line early, the question of satisfying France and Italy remains outstanding, with Italy claiming equality with France and France apparently unwilling to grant it in all classes.

France Leads in Subs. The French attitude of doubt on the submarine question is best understood when it is remembered that France has the most powerful fleet of submarines in the world on the score of tonnage. The total tonnage for all classes is 94,000, as compared to 96,000 tons for America, 75,000 tons for Japan, 63,000 tons for Britain, and 40,000 tons for Italy.

TAKE UP REPEAL OF CUNEO TOWER PROVISION TODAY

Battling over the proposed Cuneo tower project at Michigan avenue and Randolph street will be resumed in three places this week. Today at a meeting of the city council buildings and zoning committee hearings will start on repeal of the zoning amendment allowing erection of the Cuneo tower while the council on Wednesday will consider an order revoking the Cuneo permit. Court hearings on the appeal of three neighboring property owners to stop the building are scheduled to start tomorrow before Circuit Judge Taylor.

China Names New Consul General at San Francisco

PEIPING, China, Sept. 29.—(U. P.)—Appointment of Henry King Hui-chang as consul general at San Francisco to succeed Ying Kao, who now is awaiting trial with his wife on charges of opium smuggling, was announced today. Henry is the son of Chang Ying-Tang, who, in 1910, was Chinese minister at Washington. He was educated in the United States.

"Beaumonde"—Ultra Fine Silk Lined Suits by STEIN-BLOCH

You have heard well dressed men speak of the "Custom Tailored Feel" of a finely tailored suit. That describes "Beaumontes"—for they are similar in character to the productions of the exclusive Custom Tailor whose prices range from $125 to $175. Hand needled thru and thru—of the choicest unfinished worsteds, in restricted patterns of guarded rarity. Lined throughout with pure dye ribbed silk of extra heavy thickness—harmonizing silk sleeve linings. The height of luxury—but comparatively low in price.

BY PERCY WOOD.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
South Bend, Ind., Sept. 29.—[U. P.]—The fifth week of testimony in the federal grand jury here concerning a general breakdown in law enforcement in Lake county, Ind., in East Chicago, will be completed today. In the last two weeks a federal grand jury here has heard more than 150 witnesses give evidence of vote fraud, violations of the liquor and wage laws in northern Indiana.

Next Saturday, according to the United States Attorney General, the grand jury will return a list of indictments which, it is believed, will name about 160 persons, most of whom already are in prison.

Bills to Be Drafted.

By that end Assistant Attorney General Oliver E. Pagan will devote the week to drafting true bills. Mr. Pratt will return from his home in Toledo tomorrow morning, and the week-end going over the evidence to familiarize himself with the vast alleged conspiracy which was under investigation for months before the special indictment was called to consider it.

Experts Called In.

Three weeks after the jury of South Bend, Mr. Loomis felt that aid from Washington was necessary and that Mr. Pagan and Oscar Raymond, in charge of all criminal investigations for the attorney general, be hastened to South Bend, Ind., where they were joined by Dr. James Don

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 29.—[Special.]—The fifth week of testimony in a general breakdown of government in Lake county, particularly in East Chicago, will begin today as a federal grand jury here to-day afternoon. In the last month they have heard more than 150 witnesses give evidence of vote frauds, violations of the liquor and white slave laws in northern Indiana.

Today, according to the United States Attorney Oliver E. Pratt, the grand jury will hear a list of indictments which, it is believed, will name about 160 persons, most of whom already are under indictment.

Bills to Be Drafted.
Pratt and Assistant Attorney General E. Pagan will devote much of the week-end to drafting true bills. Pratt will return from his home in South Bend tomorrow morning after the week-end going over the evidence to familiarize himself with the vast alleged conspiracy, which was under investigation five weeks before the special indictments were called to consider it.

Experts Called In.
Two weeks after the jury convened, Mr. Loomis felt that aid from outside was necessary and Mr. Pagan and Oscar Raymond, who is in charge of all criminal prosecutions for the attorney general's office, were called to South Bend. Here they were joined by Dr. James Doran, national commissioner of prohibition, and a joint conference was held in which the future course of the inquiry supposedly was outlined.

CAVIN COOLIDGE REFUSES AIR TRIP FOR SELF OR WIFE

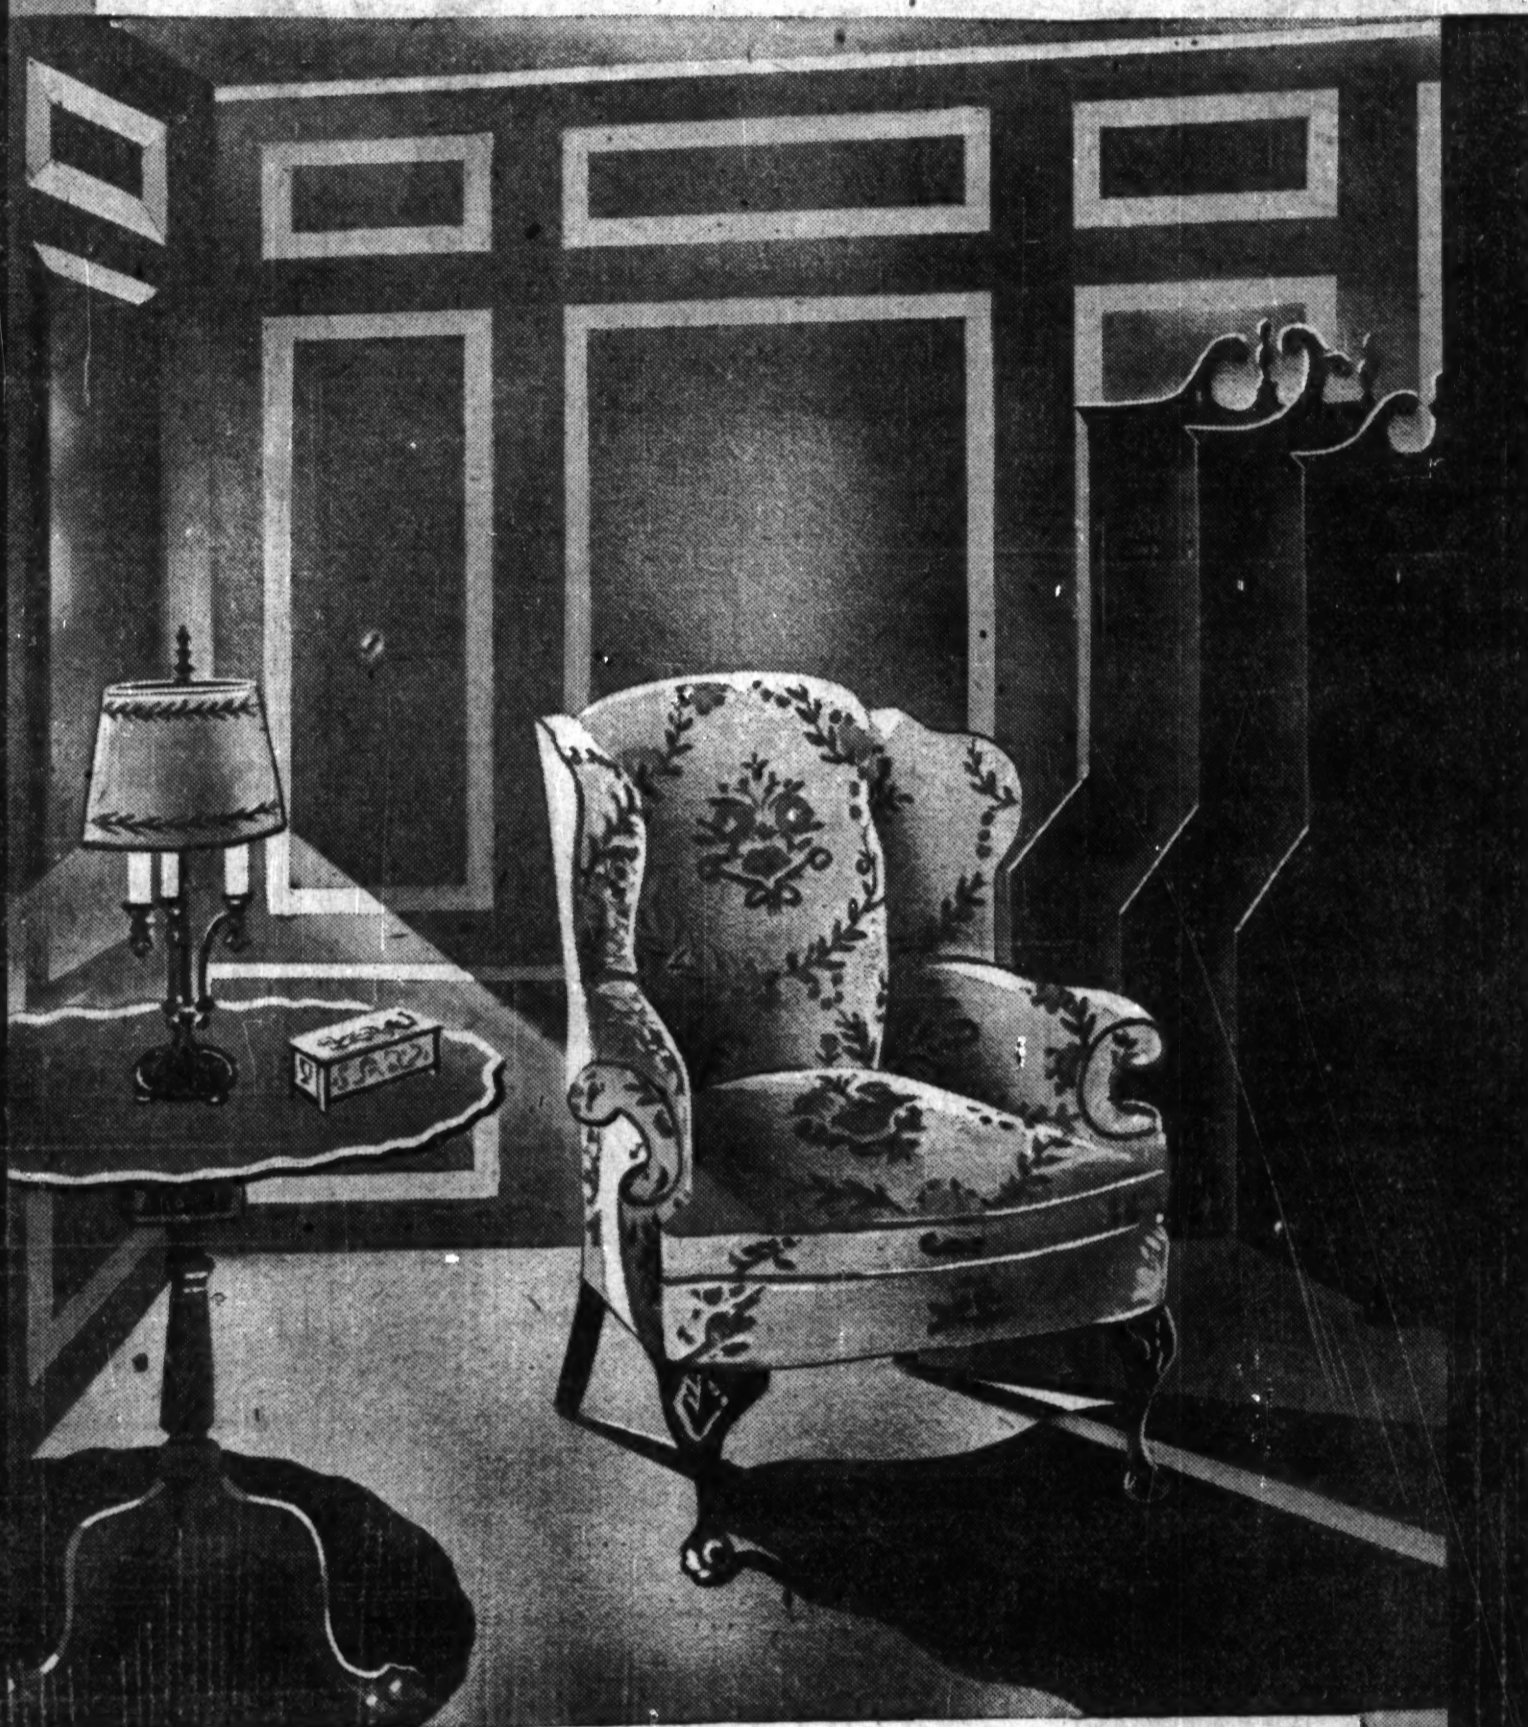

Boston, Mass., Sept. 29.—[Special.]—Former President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge apparently are becoming a bit more air-minded. While they have never taken an airplane flight, they did consent to sit in a large trimotored monoplane shortly after its arrival at the La Fleur field from Marlboro.

Efforts had been made to persuade Mr. Coolidge to take a short flight, but he declined. When it was suggested that Mrs. Coolidge might be interested in the former President requested such an invitation should not be extended to his wife, as he did not choose to have her fly.

VISIONS ROCKET PLANE AS WORLD WEAPON OF SKY

Inventor Tells Story of Latest Creation.

BY FRITZ VON OPEL.

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times and the Chicago Tribune.) PHANKFORT, Germany, Sept. 29.—

Prior to the initial flight of my new rocket plane, which I hope will take place in the next few hours, I want to discuss the possibilities of rocket flying and engineering. I am sharply opposed to the Utopian idea, which, heretofore, have been linked up to my work. I am not proposing now to fly to the moon. I am only concerned with the possibility of rocket flying.

First, I want, though it has been denied to many, to prove that a rocket flight is possible and that it can be carried out without difficulty, if thoroughly prepared. Secondly, I want to demonstrate the power of a simple rocket, such as that invented by my co-worker, Prof. Sander, can develop and how a plane can start, without the necessity of a flying field or troublesome equipment, from any flat roof or even from a motor truck.

Aside from these things I hope to remove the odium of danger, which until now has rested upon all air tests made with powder rockets. Apart from airplanes, rockets have a wide field for operation. The Sander powder rocket in its present tested and advanced state can be applied in many ways. It can be used in case of shipwreck, where rockets can be thrown many yards over ships.

Bremen Has Rocket Pistol.

Quite recently it has been used in the form of a pistol on ocean liners during landing maneuvers. The liner Bremen now carries four of our rocket pistols, which permit the shooting and landing of ropes instead of having the ship piloted by small vessels. Fire guards have not been supplied for these pistols.

Nonflammable ropes, strong enough to carry several persons, can be thrown by the rockets across burning buildings. The powder rocket therefore is a salvage instrument of the first order. The lifting capacity of the rocket has now been increased from 25 kilograms (about 44 pounds) to 1,000 kilograms (about 2,200 pounds). This means literally that it is able to hurl a loaded motor truck through the air.

Concerning its military use, I am now a pacifist, so it does not seem opportune to talk about that. However, I am certain rockets will be used in any future war simply because it is possible to combat any airplane from the ground with absolute accuracy in the air—which would seem to render any future air attack illusory.

The rocket can also be used purely

"MISTAKE PICTURES" CONTEST ENDS; HERE ARE NO. 23 WINNERS

SECOND PRIZE—Mary Grulke, 267 Prospect avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., $25.00
THIRD PRIZE—H. A. Neale, R. D. 3, Box 61, Aurora, Ill., $10.00
FOURTH PRIZE—Stanley Carr, W. M. C. A., Room 9, Gary, Ind., $5.00
FIFTH PRIZE—F. J. Walsh, Standard Steel Co., Butler, Pa., $5.00
SIXTH PRIZE—Ollie L. Birdall, 223 East Cass street, Cadillac, Mich., $5.00

The prize winners in "Mistake Pictures" No. 24 will be announced tomorrow.

for defensive purposes. Its capacity to fly at a great speed and with big loads makes it for use in dispensing smoke screens. Within a few seconds we shall be able to produce a smoke screen at a height of about 16,300 feet and as wide as we desire. With a touch of the finger an impenetrable veil could be thrown over a city like Berlin or New York within two minutes, a cloud which would be 330 to 3,280 feet above so as not to interfere with ground traffic.

To return to rocket flying applied in a reverse way, our rocket is a valuable means for landings—especially for forced landings. Exactly as I soon hope to demonstrate taking off without the aid of a flying field, so I expect to demonstrate landing within a circle of a 53 foot radius. For example, a rocket, weighing 11 pounds, is sufficient to act as a brake on a plane weighing 1,540 pounds and to place it on the ground without any run out.

Ninety-nine per cent of all air accidents occur in landing. Great landings speed and long run out often prove fatal to the best pilots.

Perfect "Emergency Brake."

I am convinced we have created with the simple powder rocket a perfect "emergency brake." Were I not wholly convinced of the importance of the rocket I certainly would not have kept on after previous failures. I hope, as I have already said, to prove that the powder rocket is one of the best means of security in peace or war and also that only the liquid rocket is destined to revolutionize our present conceptions of world traffic and speed.

Prof. Sander and I now want to transfer the liquid rocket from the laboratory to practical use. With the liquid rocket I hope to be the first man to thus fly across the English channel.

ROBBER SLAIN IN HOLDUP OF LOOP THEATER

Shot as He Flees with $4,500 from McVickers.

holdup, Cobb had practiced revolver shooting in a special school conducted by Balaban & Katz, the theater's owners. He was known as an expert shot.

Tribune Tells Patrons of Shooting.

No patrons in the body of the theater heard the shots. They were too interested in the shooting on the screen. The crowd outside pushed forward, but were held back. The bandit was quickly carried to a police ambulance, but he died without recovering consciousness on the way to the County hospital.

Forty-five minutes later most of the crowd left the theater. They were met on the sidewalk by newsboys selling THE TRIBUNE with a story of the shooting which had gone on within a few feet of them without their knowledge. One of the motion picture operators in the theater was telephoned by a friend who had read of the shooting in THE TRIBUNE. The operator knew nothing of the killing.

Dead Robber Unidentified.

The dead bandit was about 35 years old. His right arm bore the tattooed initials J. S. His clothes were expensive and new, but there were no identification marks. His revolver was a .45 caliber automatic with seven shots in the chamber.

SCHOOLBOY, 18, IS KNIFE VICTIM IN RUM FIGHT

Bloomfield, Ind., Sept. 29.—(P)—

Delmar Oliphant, 18, local high school athlete, was stabbed to death by Wayne (Red) Lucas, 35, during a fight near here early this morning.

The stabbing occurred when a number of men, said to have been incensed by Lucas' alleged activities as a government prohibition informer, threatened to attack him. Oliphant was with a party of high school students attracted by the possibility of seeing a fight.

Confronted by the crowd, Lucas, it was said, sprang from the car and brandished a piece of pipe to hold them off.

Oliphant, according to witnesses, stepped up to him and said: "Why don't you throw that pipe away and fight fair?"

Lucas was reported to have tossed the pipe aside and drew a knife, with which he began stabbing wildly. One of the thrusters pierced Oliphant's heart.

Arrested, Lucas said he didn't know he had injured any one.

Two Other Theaters Robbed.

Two south side theater robberies were reported some time before the McVickers holdup. In each case a single bandit pushed a gun into the cashier's cage.

Miss Anna Ludes, cashier at the Harvard theater, 6316 Harvard avenue, handed over $55, and Miss Elizabeth Kelly, cashier at the Grove theater, 7620 Cottage Grove avenue, gave up $200.

Both cashiers were taken to the county morgue to ascertain if the McVickers theater bandit had been the same man who robbed them, but they failed to identify him.

The large new issues of capital made in the U. S. A. for speculative purposes during the current year are but another indication of that real abundance of available resources which lies at the root of America's problems. The apparent scarcity and dearth of money in the U. S. A. is a product of artificial manipulation. The rate of savings in the United States is more than adequate to cope with the requirements of new capital. Hence the unhealthy accumulation of surpluses of capital which by right should be distributed abroad. Far from exporting capital, however, the United States, owing to the artificial tightening of the monetary position, has been importing capital and has thus added to its difficulties.

YOU ARE INVITED TO THE AUTUMN
EXPOSITIONSEPTEMBER 30
TO OCTOBER 5

From the Place Vendome—the Champs Elysees—the Rue Matignon to State, Washington, Randolph and Wabash, has flown the new mode. It is revealed this morning against the gorgeous background of our many windows.

What does one find in the new Section of Parisian Accessories? Handkerchiefs and hosiery, the like of which one can find only in Paris—gloves by Lelong, the like of which one has never before found—because he has designed them especially for us! First Floor, Middle, State

Chanel's knit things, the talk of the Paris openings a few weeks ago, are now the talk of our new Sports Section. They are being shown in replica—a specially planned feature for this opening week. Sixth Floor, Middle, Wabash.

Vionnet's stone chokers—Paray's necklace of rose pearls with diamond rondles—if you do not know your Couturier Jewelry (or even if you do) visit our Costume Jewelry Section where a superb collection of one-of-a-kind pieces has arrived. First Floor, South, Wabash.

The Ensemble—The Theme of Our Autumn Opening

The great Paris Dressmaking world has held its openings, dramatizing a new silhouette... the Paris Milliners big and little have revealed the mode (and the face) in their new off-the-face hats... these same couturiers and milliners have sponsored innumerable clever new accessories and fabrics. And now the fashion scene shifts from Paris to Chicago. For the past ten weeks our representatives have been attending openings, making careful selections, copying and adapting important successes, their eyes always on the ENSEMBLE. Not in apparel and accessories only but in furnishings for the home also is this ensemble idea carried out—until this week the entire store appears as one vast and closely related ensemble. The moment is the Autumn Exposition.

A gown that stands singly in its quiet luxury, its dramatic simplicity, its delightful flow of line is Augustabernard's evening gown of velvet in a deep prune shade. Typical of the new evening silhouette—it is as individual in its execution as the art of its famous designer. From the costume room, Sixth Floor, South, Wabash Avenue.

Pearls from our large collection which includes every smart new length....

16-button gloves of eggshell made worn ruffed down in the new manner....

Champs Elysees, a perfect shade of 100-fin French hose blending with the long glove....

Our opera pump in white satin dyed to match the gown in deep prune color....

The evening bag in antique tapestry or beauvais embroidery from our handsome collection.

DIXIE GOVERNOR ASKS TEXTILE WAGE INCREASE

N. Carolina Executive May Call Parley.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—[Special.]—Higher wages, shorter hours, abolition of the mill village and company housing system, and closer cooperation between capital, labor, and the state were urged by Gov. O. Max Gardner today as a cure for the ills of the southern textile industry.

It was the governor's opinion that in view of the complex nature of the problem confronting the textile industry in the south as a whole, the solution may have to be applied by the cooperation of the various states concerned. In this connection it is understood that Gov. Gardner may call a conference of his fellow state executives to discuss the question.

Industry Not Delicately. Ascertaining that reports in the press in other parts of the country appear to have given a wrong impression of the situation now prevailing in North Carolina, the governor denied there is any delinquency of industry in this state, and said that its industries are operating normally.

At the same time, however, he admitted that North Carolina, like other southern states, is confronted with the serious task of an economic and social readjustment, and declared that only intelligent, constructive cooperation of all factors concerned can bring about the necessary result.

"Violence, communism, and appeal to class hatred are not going to solve the problem," the governor said. "This applies to elements responsible for violence."

Communism. "Communism, by its violent and emotional propaganda, its obvious attempt to utilize the existing situation for its own ulterior, subversive, revolutionary purposes, has served only to bedevil the issue, to foment high passion, and to interfere with an intelligent and dispassionate approach to the problem," the governor said.

Domestic Violence. The violence that has been expressed in the mill villages of this state, the governor said, is a result of the economic situation. It is a result of the struggle for existence, and it is a result of the struggle for existence.

On Aug. 25, when the state first attempted to try the men and women charged with the murder of Judge Pershing, everything was a mystery. For more than a week a special term of the North Carolina Supreme Court attempted to obtain a jury to try the 14. Taking evidence finally was started and continued three days. Then J. C. Campbell, a juror declared insane, was removed from the jury, and the date of the new trial was set for tomorrow.

BARUCH'S FRIEND SAYS PERSHING'S SHOTS HIT JUDGE

Cicero Dedicates New Congregational Church

The new $182,000 Congregational church of Cicero was dedicated yesterday with the Rev. Melvin E. Trotter, well known evangelist of Grand Rapids, as the principal speaker. The new edifice is the second structure to be erected during the seventeen years of the pastorate of the Rev. William McCarroll. In 1912 a $28,000 Sunday school building was erected. The new church seats 1,000 persons.

STANDARD TIME RETURNS WITH LITTLE FLURRY

Chicago went back to central standard time yesterday after nearly six months of daylight savings. Almost no confusion attended the putting of the clocks back one hour and the city's inhabitants accepted with thanks the 3,000,000 extra hours of sleep they were granted at a Sunday morning gift. It was the twelfth annual experiment with summer time in this district.

RADICALS PLOT RULING VOICE IN LOBBY INQUIRY

Pull Wires to Control Senate Committee.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Senate radicals are quietly pulling wires to secure control of the committee on judiciary.

Either the personnel of a special committee must be satisfactory to them or else they will see to it that the inquiry is placed in the hands of the committee on judiciary.

The judiciary committee is the one outstanding committee of the senate in control of the radicals and Democrats.
Presumably any investigation conducted by this committee would center its fire on the lobbies of conservative groups and deal lightly with the numerous radical and pacifist lobbies.

Senator T. H. Caraway (Dem., Ark.) intends to call up in the senate tomorrow a resolution for a far reaching investigation of lobbies. Under his resolution a special committee composed of three senators would be appointed by Vice President Curtis.

How Rule Works.
If assurance is received from the Vice President that the committee would include a radical Republican the resolution may be allowed to go through in its present form. This would mean a committee consisting of one conservative Republican, one radical Republican and one Democrat who would undoubtedly be Senator Caraway. The radical Republican and Senator Caraway would control the inquiry and one of them probably would be chosen as chairman.

If it were considered desirable to have a committee of five, two Democrats and one radical Republican would be able to control against two conservative Republicans.

As a reason for authorizing the judiciary committee to conduct the inquiry, the radicals point that this committee has had charge of similar work in past years, notably the Mulhall lobby investigation.

Republican senate leaders at the beginning of the present congress shifted the party membership of the various standing committees with a view to dislodging the radicals from the balance of power.

In the case of the judiciary committee, however, it was not possible to

HOTEL THIEF PICKS WRONG ROOM; COP'S WALLOP FELS HIM

Harry Weber, notorious hotel thief picked the wrong apartment in the Congress hotel yesterday. Let Lieut.
Thomas McFarland, veteran thief catcher at the detective bureau, tell the story.

"Mrs. McFarland had gone to church and I had turned over for another nap in our rooms at the Congress," said the lieutenant. "Suddenly I was wide awake. A big fellow was going through my trousers pockets."

"Well, I let him have it as hard as I could without climbing out of bed, and down he went. Then he blinks at me and says: 'Why, hello, Tom. Is it you?' And I says: 'You bet, Harry.
Let's get going toward the bureau.'"

"You see, it was none other than my old friend, Harry Weber, one of the slickest hotel thieves in the racket, and I've pinched him myself at least a couple of dozen times."

accomplish the purpose desired. Senator George W. Norris (Rep., Neb.), leader of the radical group in the senate, is the chairman of the committee, having been allowed to retain this post despite his support of Alfred E. Smith in the last presidential election. Senator John F. Blaine (Rep., Wis.), who was also outspoken in his criticism of Herbert Hoover during the campaign, is another radical member of the committee.

The committee is made up of ten Republicans and seven Democrats.
Senators Norris and Blaine by joining with the Democrats can control the committee, nine to eight. If any one of the seven Democrats should vote with the Republicans the two radicals can obtain the assistance of Senator William E. Borah (Rep., Idaho), also a member of the committee, who is identified with the radical group more than half the time.

Makeup of Committee.
Other Republican members of the committee are Senators Charles S.
Deneen (Ill.), P. H. Gillis (Mass.),
Arthur R. Robinson (Ind.), Frederick
Steiwer (Ore.), Charles W. Waterman (Colo.), Daniel O. Hastings (Del.), and Theodore E. Burton (Iowa).

Senator Caraway is a member of the committee and would be named on any sub-committee selected to conduct the investigation. Senator Thomas J.
Walsh (Dem., Mont.), who has been active against the "power trust," also would be likely to figure prominently.

Other Democrats on the committee are Senators Lee S. Overman (N. C.), Henry P. Ashurst (Ariz.), William H.
King (Utah), H. D. Stephens (Miss.),
and C. C. Dill (Wash.).

Whatever action is taken by the senate, it is the understanding that the Caraway resolution will be used as a basis, such amendment being offered to it as may be decided upon.

Scope of Investigation.
The Caraway resolution recites that it is charged "that the lobbyists, located in and around Washington, fish from the American public more money under a false claim that the cyan influence legislation than the legislative branch of this government costs the tax payers." And declares that "the lobby interests seek by all means to capitalize for themselves every interest and every sentiment of the American public which can be made to yield an unclean dollar for their greedy
pockets."

The resolution instructs the investigating committee "to inquire into the activities of these lobbying associations and lobbyists, to ascertain of what their activities consist, how much and from whom they obtain their revenues, how much of these moneys they expend and for what purpose and in what manner," and "what effort they put forth to affect legislation."

The radicals are against placing the lobby investigation in the hands of a joint congressional committee, as provided in a resolution offered in the house by Representative Ernest W.
Gibson (Rep., Vt.). The house is in control of conservatives and there would be no radical representation on the joint committee from that branch of congress.

Conservatives Control House.
The senate radicals would be in the minority on the joint committee. The Gibson resolution provides for the appointment of a joint committee composed of three senators named by the vice president and three representatives named by the speaker. The committee would be authorized to conduct "a thorough investigation of the activities of individuals and organizations engaged in promoting or opposing the enactment of legislation by congress."

The committee would be instructed to report its findings to congress not later than the first Monday in December, 1930, including "such recommendations for legislation as it may deem advisable to regulate the activities of such individuals and organizations."

It is anticipated that any investigating committee which may be appointed will recommend legislation to provide for registration of lobbyists. Senator Caraway has sponsored a bill requiring registration and disclosure of activities of lobbyists which was passed by the senate in the last congress. The bill died in the house judiciary committee.

CHANGE OF U. S. POLICY IN WATER WAR HITS CHICAGO

Rule Applied to Mexico Is Disregarded Here.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—Legal questions which are being interposed to prevent a continuance of the present volume of diversion of water at Chicago apparently are presenting no difficulties for water users in southwestern states.

Despite the decision of the Supreme court adverse to the water diversion from Lake Michigan through the Chicago sanitary district canal, government attorneys insist the points at issue are not applicable to the situation applying on the Rio Grande and Colorado rivers, both of which flow into a foreign country.

Resume Negotiations.

Commissioners representing the United States and Mexico, which recently held sessions in Mexico City, are to resume negotiations in Washington on Oct. 1, with a view to an agreement upon a basis for a division of waters of the Rio Grande, Colorado, and Tia Juana rivers.

Sanctionment of Boulder dam legislation embodying approval of the Colorado river compact apportioning its water among seven states of the Colorado river basin has made it desirable to reach an agreement with Mexico as to its claims upon waters of that river.

The United States already has a treaty with Mexico affecting a division of waters of the upper Rio Grande but is making an agreement regarding the lower Rio Grande, which forms the international boundary. Problems affecting the water supply of the city of San Diego are involved in the situation with respect to the Tia Juana river.

Protests from Canada.

Protests of Canadian power interests against the Chicago water diversion on the ground that it diminishes the amount of water flowing down the St. Lawrence have figured prominently in the controversy affecting Chicago's average problem. As against the protest it has been claimed that the diversion of water through the Chicago drainage canal was for a domestic purpose and that under the common law of riparian rights water could be used for this purpose even though riparian waters along the St. Lawrence have a right to the waters flowing down the river.

On the basis of the Supreme court decision of last spring the volume of diversion at Chicago must be reduced, allowing the water to flow through the great lakes and down the St. Lawrence into Canada. At the same time government attorneys refuse to

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Tangled affairs of Alexander Pantages, millionaire theater man, and his wife will be under the spotlight again tomorrow.

Mrs. Pantages, convicted of manslaughter, is due to appear in Superior court in the morning to hear a sentence of from one to ten years in prison pronounced. She was found responsible by a jury for the death in an automobile accident of Joro Tokumoto, a Japanese.

Her husband, ordered to trial Tuesday to answer to charges of criminal attack, preferred by Miss Ethel Fringle, 17-year-old dancer, is expected to approach the court later in the day and ask a change of venue to San Francisco, Cal.

The same afternoon two ministers, the Rev. Robert Shuler and the Rev. Gustav Briegleb, must appear for trial on contempt charges. Both men made public comment on the recent trial of Mrs. Pantages.

consider seriously any claim that diversion of water from the Rio Grande and Colorado river for domestic irrigation purposes should be cut down to allow Mexico to have a greater benefit from the water.

Mexico Has No Legal Claim.

It is the position of the United States government that Mexico has no legal claim to water originating in this country and flowing down the Rio Grande and Colorado river. In support of this position there is cited an opinion given by the late Judson Harmon as attorney general in 1895 when Mexico advanced claims with respect to waters originating in the United States and flowing down the Rio Grande.

"The rules, principles, and precedents of international law impose no duty or obligation upon the United States of denying to its inhabitants the use of the water of that part of the Rio Grande lying entirely within the United States, although such use results in reducing the volume of water in the river below the point where it ceases to be entirely within the United States," said Mr. Harmon in that opinion.

"The fact that there is not enough water in the Rio Grande for the use of inhabitants of both countries for irrigation purposes does not give Mexico the right to subject the United States to the burden of arresting its development and denying to its inhabitants the use of a provision which nature has supplied, entirely within its own territory. The recognition of such a right is entirely inconsistent with the sovereignty of the United States over its national domain."

Despite this opinion the United States as a matter of international comity entered into a treaty with Mexico allotting 600,000 cubic feet of water annually to that country from the upper Rio Grande. It is stated that while the Harmon opinion is applicable to the Colorado river, the United States also as a matter of international comity proposes to grant a designated amount of water to Mexico from the regulated flow which will be available after the construction of the Boulder dam.

The reason why Illinois citizens apparently are on a different basis with respect to the use of water as are California, Texas and other states in the southwest is explained by government attorneys as being due to a different doctrine of law which has grown up in those states.

Common Law Doctrine.

"The common law doctrine of riparian rights has been abolished in all of the Colorado river basin and Rio Grande river states except California, which recognizes riparian rights in a modified sense," said F. W. Dent, assistant commissioner and chief counsel of the reclamation bureau of the department of the interior. "The doctrine of appropriation based upon priority of use has been substituted. In California there exists the dual system of riparian rights and the doctrine of appropriation and priority."

Under the doctrine of appropriation the diversion and use of water on nonriparian land is sanctioned in the Colorado river basin states. The same thing was and is applicable under the civil law applying in Mexico. Mexico could not assert rights based upon riparian doctrine because this rule was not applicable before the cession of the territory which now includes the Colorado river basin.

"The doctrine of appropriation is based upon beneficial use, the first in time being the first in right. The Colorado river compact was designed to modify this general law to permit an equitable division of the water among the states without regard to priority of use except as to vested rights already established. The compact does not recognize any right of Mexico, but it does provide that if by subsequent treaty Mexico is given rights in the river the water for Mexico shall be taken in a specified manner."

ARRAIGNMENTS IN CALUMET CITY RAIDS DUE TODAY

One hundred men and women taken into custody early yesterday when Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, descended with several squads of detectives upon vice and gambling resorts of Calumet City will be arraigned today before a magistrate at Blue Island.

Roche last night indicated he is going "hard" after that Calumet City bunch, adding, "Anybody can see somebody is giving protection to divers in that town." John W. Jarosnowski, who is mayor of Calumet City, is also a Cook county commissioner.

An incident of the raid was the mysterious theft of an automobile belonging to Policeman John Bowman, a member of Roche's detective force. Roche said that the Cook county police, awakened to activity, apparently after the Roche men were hurrying from dive to dive, started out to do some raiding on their own account.

STORE OWNER SEIZED; LOOT IN BASEMENT

Paul Daresch, owner of a drug store at 23th and State streets, was arrested in his home at 5524 South Fairfield avenue yesterday on a charge of receiving stolen property. Clearnettes valued at $2,500, which had been stolen two weeks ago in a truck robbery, were found in the basement of Daresch's home.

Daresch told Sergts. Frank Freeman and John Burns, who obtained a warrant to search Daresch's home, that two men came to his home two weeks ago and asked him whether he wanted to buy some cigarettes. He agreed and the cigarettes were delivered four days later, he said. He declared he did not think the tobacco was stolen.

Police found that the two men who had robbed the truck driver at 63d street and Hamilton avenue had apparently taken the order for the goods four days before the robbery. Daresch will be arraigned in court today.

JULIA KING'S

Tenth Anniversary CELEBRATION WEEK

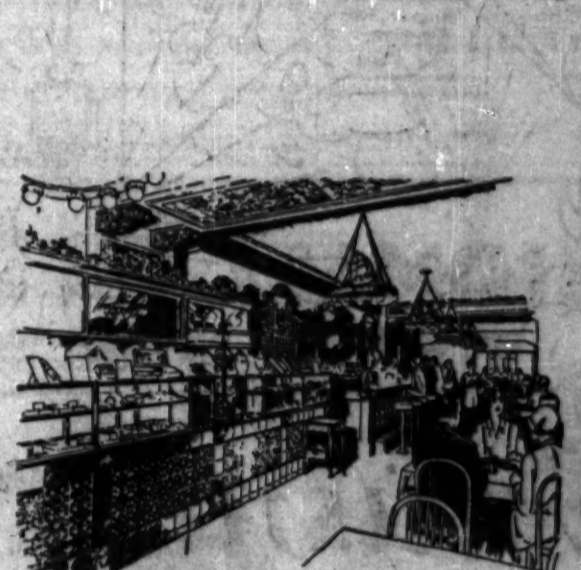

At All of Julia King's Restaurants and Candy Shops

The English Tavern at 129 S. Wabash. Authentic murals adorn the walls, adding interest and colorful beauty.

The restaurant at 118-122 North Dearborn Street—the first large restaurant opened by Julia King.

Julia King's restaurant at 111 South Clark Street, decorated in Spanish style.

Ten years ago, Julia King's first tea room and candy shop was opened in a small store on Washington street. In a short time, the fame of this unusual shop spread to all parts of the city.

Then a much larger venture was launched—the establishment of the restaurant and candy shop at 118-122 North Dearborn Street. Attractive decorations, exceptionally good food and an atmosphere of hospitality soon made this one of Chicago's most popular restaurants.

Now there are two other important additions to Julia King's chain of candy shops and restaurants—one at 111 South Clark street and the other at 129 South Wabash Avenue, which is one of the show places of Chicago.

In celebration of these ten years of progress and success, this week is set aside as a period of special occasions. Read about the many unusual features described below.

$100 in Prizes Given Away in a Candy Contest

To the persons who answer the following question in the most satisfactory manner:

"Which kind of Julia King's Candy do you like best and why?"

20,000 FRENCH TROOPS TO QUIT RHINE BY DEC. 1

Start Evacuating Second Zone This Week.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
MAYENCE, Germany, Sept. 29.—The actual evacuation of military units of the French army from the second zone—Coblenz bridgehead and a strip of territory running northwest as far as the Dutch border—began last week.

Since the early days of September advance detachments have been marching out to the various military centers of France, preparing barracks and getting depots in readiness to receive the units when they withdraw. British and Belgian units have been retiring for the last two weeks, proceeding down the Rhine toward Ais la Chapelle by boat and train.

The French will withdraw almost 20,000 troops from the second zone, which will be entirely liberated by Dec. 1. The balance of the 42,000 troops now occupying the third zone—Mayence bridgehead, Wiesbaden and Palatinate—will then fall back.

Rhineland Free March 1.

According to present plans, the entire evacuation will be completed three months later, or about March 1.

The retirement of foreign troops is causing some curiosity, but no excitement or hilarity among the local population. This morning a trainload of French artillery lumbered across the Rhine bridge from Wiesbaden and

MR. CHICAGO MARKS HIS ELEVENTH YEAR IN ADOPTED CITY

Mr. Paul Chicago, 31 years old, 5017 North Western avenue, celebrated yesterday by mounting to the top of The Tribune tower and gazing out upon his adopted city. It was the eleventh anniversary of Mr. Chicago's advent into the city, and so he felt he wanted to do something that would linger as a pleasant memory.

"In the world war," he said, "I was with the Austrian merchant marine. After the armistice I decided to be an American and so came to Chicago."

"Some friends of mine tried to tell me I couldn't change my name if I wished when I came to be naturalized as an American citizen. Well, I fooled them. I changed my name to 'Chicago,' and 'Chicago' it will be until I die."

Mr. Chicago's former patronymic was Kocsis. He is a baker.

German civilians, watching the train rumble slowly by, did not betray any emotion. Frustration between the police and the trainmen has cooled off considerably recently because, it is explained, the Rhine maidens do not want to be left at the church by the local swains whom they have ignored for the favors of visiting soldiers, when the army leaves.

Already the population is beginning to show anxiety over the economic problem, when evacuation is completed. It is estimated that 10,000 houses, flats, apartments, and lodgings will be empty. There is no valid reason why 50,000 additional inhabitants will come to take the places of the soldiers. Landlords are wondering what they will do for rentals. Thousands of the German middle-class or intellectual families, who were ruined by the depreciation of the mark, eked out a decent subsistence during the last eleven years through renting part of their houses or offices to noncommissioned officers or civil employees connected with their armies. Others increased their incomes by serving meals to lodgers or running messages for groups of officers.

Shop keepers and retailers in all branches will feel the departure of the troops, as the allied armies purchased enormous quantities of perishable supplies of foodstuffs for men and animals.

Spend $2,500,000 a Year.

Individual officers and men expended appreciable sums for green vegetables, fruit, eggs, milk, chickens, wine, beer, and cigars. Statistics show that the average French soldier spent a thousand francs (about $40) per annum. This makes a total of 60,000,000 francs, or nearly $2,500,000 disbursed by the French army yearly.

Besides this was the contribution of the British Tommies and Belgian soldiers and the expenditures of the host of civilian employees. The Rhine and high commission personnel alone totaled nearly a thousand until a year ago.

Meanwhile the work of raising fortifications in the Rhineland, in conformity with the terms of the Versailles treaty, which calls for demilitarization of the entire zone, is being rushed in order to dismantle all the earthworks and other strong points before the armies leave.

Germans are hard at work pulling the powerful Generals' forts to pieces, stone by stone. Huge mounds of masonry with concrete reinforcements and steel shields, turrets, and gun emplacements, are being broken up and the mounds filled with dirt.

This year's vintage of Rhine and Moselle wines promises to break all previous records for quantity and quality from the great grape harvest. Preparations are being made to baptize this autumn's wine crop as "liberation of the zone."

FALL TO ANSWER OIL DEAL BRIBE CHARGE TODAY

Dismissal of Indictment Will Be Sought.

(Special Tribune Staff Service)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—(Special Tribune Staff Service)—The case of the Harding administration will be opened on Wednesday when Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, is arraigned before Judge William H. Hunt in the District court to answer a five-count indictment charging him with accepting a $100,000 bribe from E. L. Doheny, oil magnate.

Fall, known in health and spirit, according to his attorney, Frank J. Hogan, will ask for dismissal of the indictment on the ground that, having been acquitted by a jury in a conspiracy case on the identical evidence, he is not liable in the bribery case, trial of the latter is a violation of the constitutional guaranty against double jeopardy.

Motion to Be Fought.
The motion to quash the bribery indictment will be opposed by Owen J. Roberts and former Senator Allen C. Gurnea, special government counsel in the case of civil and criminal litigation growing out of exposure of the Doheny-Sinclair scandal.

The jury in the trial, if Justice Hunt sets the motion to quash, will be asked to decide whether the $100,000 loaned by Doheny to Fall in the "black bag" to Fall on Nov. 20, 1919, was a bribe to obtain the immensely valuable Elk Hills, Cal., naval reserves for a Doheny company or merely a loan from Doheny to Fall.

Story May Be Retold.
Doheny probably will take the witness stand and repeat the story he told to convince the conspiracy jury that patriotism moved him to obtain control of the Elk Hills reserve lest his exploiters deplete the navy's fuel supply, and that the $100,000 loan was merely acknowledgment of the "oil stakes" advanced by Fall years ago.

E. L. Doheny Jr., who delivered the $100,000 in currency to Fall in the late Wardman Park hotel suite, and he originally was indicted with his son on the bribery charge, was shot and killed by his secretary about a year ago in California.

The older Doheny's payment to Fall is reported when the senate oil scandal committee, investigating the lease of the Elk Hills reserve by Fall to Doheny, discovered that Fall, generally believed to be in desperate financial straits, had paid off long standing mortgages and spent other large sums in improvements.

Fall appeared before the committee to explain that the money had been loaned to him by E. B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post. McLean denied Fall's story and ultimately Fall admitted to Senator T. J. Walsh (Dem., Mont.) that the money came from Doheny.

LORD BIRKENHEAD AND HIS PARTY GO TO ST. LOUIS

Lord Birkenhead, former lord chancellor of England, and his London party, including Sir Laming Worthington Evans, former minister of war for the conservative government, and Maj. George H. Cartwright of the British army, departed last night for St. Louis, after having spent three days in Chicago. The party will remain for several days in St. Louis and then go to Indianapolis before returning to Montreal, via Chicago, to sail for home.

The earl and his party spent their last day here playing golf at the Glen Oak Country club. Lord Birkenhead was paired with Attorney Don Kenneth Jones against Maj. Cartwright and William M. Murray. After the match and dinner at the club house, the party went to the home of Col. William J. Sutherland on Polo farm, near Wheaton, for tea.

furnishing style notes from leading centers

GOOD FURNITURE, the leading style journal of the furnishing field, reports in the September issue:

"Finer French furniture of the various Louis periods maintains the consistent demand which it has always had. French Empire and Directoire styles represent in the minds of customers the very height of sophistication and true elegance, according to a representative of Fields."

"Most New York department furniture stores report a decline in sales of modernistic merchandise. This holds true particularly of bedroom furniture."

"Wanamaker reports that of the volume done in 1928 by the two departments, An Quatrieme and Belmanson, 37 1/2 percent was transacted in the 18th century English styles. Since the first of this year this tendency has become even more marked, 60 percent now being estimated in these types."

"At John A. Colby and Sons in Chicago, sets of well balanced French design and 18th century English styles are most frequently chosen in the bedroom department. . . . The ensemble idea of room furniture, which is receiving so much attention at present, has always been advocated in this store."

IDA BAILEY ALLEN Tells Women How to Keep Hands Young and Lovely...

Mrs. Allen, the world's leading hand expert, is known to millions of women through her lectures, books, magazine articles and radio broadcasts.

"It is true that the beauty of the hands is most difficult to keep," said Mrs. Ida Bailey Allen in one of her recent radio talks over the Columbia Broadcasting System. "Actresses who, although grandmothers, have managed to keep a youthful body and a face like that of a young girl, have found the hands their greatest problem, for the hands reveal age more quickly than any other part of the body."

TEXAS RANGERS ARREST MAYOR OF TOUGH TOWN

Accused of Intimidating Murder Case Witness.

Borger, Tex., Sept. 29.—(AP)—While a troop of militiamen was entraining at Fort Worth for Borger, bearing with them notice that Gov. Dan Moody had placed the town and county under martial law, Texas rangers arrested Mayor Glenn A. Pace. He faced a charge of "causing a state witness in the Charles Hale murder case to leave town."

"Ruled by Crime Ring." The rangers had investigated the assassination of District Attorney John Holmes, who was killed fifteen days ago when he started to leave the garage at his home after nightfall. The murder led to an investigation by state authorities which revealed the existence of crime domination over the town, involving the allied connivance of city and county officials with the underworld.

The militiamen, about 100 officers and men, commanded by Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, left Fort Worth on a special train and were due here about 5 a. m. tomorrow.

Borger, a great sprawling oil town with a two mile long main street, grown up in three years from a bald and dreary prairie, was quiet tonight.

Gives $5,000 Bond. Mayor Pace made $5,000 bond before H. M. Wood, county judge, soon after his arrest and was freed pending preliminary hearing tomorrow.

Ranger J. W. Aldrich made the arrest on a complaint lodged by his superior, Capt. Frank Hamer. The witness, S. E. Broome, was held

KENTUCKY PASTORS OPPOSE METHODIST "OBEY" IN MARRIAGES

Princeton, Ky., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—If the general conference, Methodist Episcopal church, south, adopts a resolution passed by the conference of the Louisville district the word "obey" will be omitted from the marriage ceremony of that church.

The resolution memorializes the general conference which meets at Dallas, Tex., next May, to take "will thou obey?" from the questions to brides at the altar. Proponents hold that the pledge covers too much ground—that it might cause a wife to break her word if, in after years, the husband should make demands which his wife, as a religious woman, could not find it in her heart to obey.

Mrs. Summers Brinson of Elizabethtown, president of the conference Epworth league, led the plea for the memorial.

The conference declined to take action relaxing the discipline to the extent that members of the Methodist clergy should be relieved of the prohibition now placed on the use of tobacco by pastors. None can now smoke or chew.

In the fall at Canadian, some miles away. Hale was charged with killing Ray Martin on Dec. 23, 1926, in an alleged "beer joint."

If Pace be found guilty, a sentence of from two to five years could be assessed.

Youth Seized in Dice Game Confesses Holdup Killing

Raiding a dice game at 14th and Hastings streets yesterday, the police captured James Dillard, colored, 18 years old, 1649 14th street, who confessed that he was one of two robbers who killed Max Stein, a peddler, in a holdup last Friday night. Dillard said William Brown, colored, 18 years old, did the shooting. Stein resisted the two young holdup men, although he only had $11 in his pockets.

Here's Opportunity For Barbers

BARBER SHOPS bring good income to their owners. People always need the services only the barber can give them. They don't like strange shops; they want to have the same barber cut their hair and shave them. Trade is steady, reliable—and it's easy to build up a clientele that comes back.

If you are working for someone else, this is your opportunity to break into the barber's trade on your own. Watch the Tribune Want Ads! Daily, shops are offered for sale. They come large and small; in Chicago and out of it. From among the offers, you can choose carefully, make yourself independent, put a shop's profit in your own pocket.

Be your own boss and build your own trade! Every day, read the Business Opportunities column for all kinds of store and shop opportunities!

1,200 PRISONERS DEFY CHINA; CALL HUNGER STRIKE

Russians Bare Demands to German Consul.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
HARBIN, Manchuria, Sept. 28 (Declared by Censor).—Dr. George Stobbe, German consul, is taking steps to prevent the possible launching of a general hunger strike by more than 1,200 prisoners confined in the Sung-chiang detention camp here. The time for the start of the strike was announced as Monday, Sept. 30.
The spokesman for the camp sent word to Dr. Stobbe that to avoid the Chinese government must comply with two demands of the prisoners. One is a demand on behalf of the prisoners that the Chinese government prefer definite charges against each prisoner held or otherwise release them. The other demand is that the Chinese Eastern railway immediately pay to each soviet laborer who resigned the complete retirement allowances, which are said to have been part of the contract when the laborer was employed.

China Not Expected to Comply.

Dr. Stobbe is pessimistic regarding the situation and said the Chinese authorities are not likely to comply with the demands. While many of the soviet prisoners are held on the specific crime of sabotage, most of those arrested are interned for going on a strike or trying to precipitate a strike in order to tie up the operations of the Chinese Eastern railway. With reference to the demand for retirement allowances, Chinese Eastern railway officials claim the soviet employees violated their contracts, hence the railway is not liable to pay the accrued retirement allowance.

Dr. Stobbe stated a soviet citizen yesterday cabled the German consulate and presented a number of photographs allegedly showing atrocities upon the soviet against the hands of Chinese authorities.

Soviets Exasperate Germany.

The photographs consisted of nude bodies of men with marks indicating stabbing and beatings. Dr. Stobbe has forwarded the photographs to the German legation at Peking for further inspection.

It is learned today that German consular officials are exasperated at the attitude of the soviet government, which is charging the German government with not properly protecting soviet citizens in China, while the soviet government at the same time is continuing the wholesale arrest of Chinese citizens.

Dr. Stobbe said that every time he asks for better treatment for the soviet prisoners the Chinese officials reply with allegations of persecutions of the Chinese in soviet territory.

Unconfirmed reports today state that soviet troops in bands of 50 or 100 are operating about 37 miles north of Salap, the so-called Three River district, driving off flocks of cattle and sheep.

Guerrilla Bands at Front.

There are also reports of considerable activity on the Siberian side of the lines in the vicinity of Manchouli and Dala Nor, the regular soviet detachments being withdrawn and their places taken by new forces, allegedly composed of guerrilla bands of Chinese, Korean, Mongol, and Buriat mercenaries.

The Chinese commander at Man-chouli reports that long lines of motor trucks and carts have been observed on the Siberian side of the line carrying winter supplies to the soviet military concentration camp at Abagail, located a few miles north of Dala Nor.

TWO RAILROADS START NEW FAST TRAINS TO N. Y.

Two new twenty hour trains between Chicago and New York were placed in service yesterday, one by the New York Central lines and the other by the Pennsylvania lines. The New York Central's flyer is the Commodore Vanderbilt and the Pennsy-vania's is the Golden Arrow.

The new trains pulled out of their terminals at 3 p. m., and in New York their counterparts departed for the west at the same hour. Railroad officials were on hand at both the La Salle Street terminal of the New York Central, and at the Union station to see the trains leave.

A group of New York Central office girls, some in present day costumes and others in the costumes of the middle nineteenth century, when the road was built, were on hand at the La Salle street station. Over at the Union station Floating Cloud, a Winnebago Indian princess, broke upon the Golden Arrow's locomotive a flask of Lake Michigan water.

Charles H. Hogan, the engineer who in 1833 piloted a locomotive which broke the world's record by traveling 112½ miles per hour, sat at the thro-tle of the Commodore Vanderbilt, and Mike Brucks, veteran engineer of the Pennsylvania system, was in the cab of the Golden Arrow.

THE Super-Heterodyne circuit is acknowledged by radio experts as the last word in radio design. It is the exclusive development of RCA and its associated companies. Radiola "66" not only embodies the Super-Heterodyne circuit but also has a newly developed inbuilt electrodynamic reproducer. Naturally it is equipped for all-electric operation from the wall socket and has a connection for an electric pickup to reproduce phonograph records.

Never before have you had such an opportunity to obtain this unique instrument at so low a price. Receiving sets of comparable quality formerly cost $500.00 to $1000.00—but even these did not equal the new "66" in fidelity of tone or simplicity of operation. Yet, think of it!
This great, new and improved Radiola Super-Heterodyne is now only $225 (less Radiotrons).
Only the vast manufacturing resources of RCA could achieve so astoundingly low a price.

U. S. BALLOONS ARE LEADING IN BENNETT RACE

Goodyear First After 7 of 9 Entries Land.

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—(AP)—With seven of the nine balloons in the Gordon Bennett international race reported as landed, tabulations tonight by the Associated Press showed the three bags representing the United States had traveled the greatest distance.

The Goodyear VIII, piloted by Ward T. Van Orman, with Allan McCracken as aid, landed three miles north of Troy, O., at 5 p. m., and was second, with distance estimated at 328 miles. Army officers at Scott field near here conceded Van Orman probably had an edge of a few miles. Capt. James F. Powell was Kennedy.

The navy balloon, piloted by Lieut. T. G. W. Settle, with Lieut. Winfield Bushnell as aid, was next with 318 miles. This bag landed ten miles west of Eaton, O., at 2:30 p. m.

The two balloons still up, so far as known, were the Belgica, piloted by Capt. Ernest de Mytter, winner of four Gordon Bennett races, and the Denmark, piloted by Lieut. Georg Schenck. The Belgica was last reported at 2 p. m. when it caught in a tree near Paoli, Ind., 200 miles east of St. Louis, but moved on after tossing out radio equipment and ballast. The Denmark was unreported late tonight.

Pilot's Leg Crushed.
D. Eduardo Bradley, pilot of the Argentine, suffered a crushed leg and severe injuries when his bag fell on a farm 15 miles south of Terre Haute, Ind., at 10:30 a. m. His aid, Lieut. Francisco J. Cadaval, was bruised. The bag was demolished when it struck a tree. His distance was 160 miles.

The other foreign balloons landed as follows:
Lafayette, France, Georges Blanchet, pilot, Stinesville, Ind., 1:10 p. m. Distance 205 miles.

Barmen, Germany, Dr. Hugo Kaule, Jr., pilot, near Melvin, Ill., 8 a. m. Distance 175 miles.
Stadt Essen, Erich Leimkugel, pilot, Catlin, Ill., 9 a. m. Distance 170 miles.

4 MEET DEATH WHEN AIRPLANE CRASHES IN FOG

Kane, Pa., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Three men and a woman, among them Harri Emery, 32, nationally known flyer, were killed tonight when a plane piloted by Emery fell. The others killed were Leon Emery, 47, brother of Harri; Miss Ella Davis, 35, and Ellis Michaels, 25, mechanic. All resided at Bradford.

Residents heard the plane flying low in a dense fog over this place tonight as it seeking a place to land. Persons living near where the plane came down said they heard the motor stop shortly before the crash.

Harri Emery had been flying for a number of years. The Bradford airport, recently dedicated, was named in his honor. He was in the army air service during the world war.

Seattle Pilot Killed.
Corvallis, Ore., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Omar Drury, 24, Seattle pilot, was killed when a monoplane he was demonstrating over the airport went into a tail spin and crashed.

Empress of Japan Gives Birth to Third Daughter

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
TOKIO, Sept. 29.—A baby girl was born to Empress Nagako at 6 a. m. today. She is the third daughter. If Emperor Hirohito dies without an heir his next young brother, Prince Chichibu, well known in American and European society, will ascend the throne. The first daughter, Princess Schigeko, was born Dec. 6, 1925. Another daughter was born two years later, but died in 1928.

Aviation Notes

The average time for dual instruction required before solo flying is eight hours and fifteen minutes, according to figures of the Spartan school of aeronautics at Tulsa, Okla. The most serious drawback to rapid progress is in the irregular flying instruction periods, either during dual instruction or solo flying. About thirty minutes daily is the most efficient way of learning to fly, according to the Spartan school.

Instructing the county how to recognize air law violators will require at least another week, according to Maj. Ralph Royce, county sky policeman. His job so far has been the explanation of the regulations governing pilots' licenses, defining what kind of flying stunts constitutes law violations, etc. Within two weeks, Maj. Royce said, he will start his education of the city and suburban police in enforcing the sky laws.

Classes begin today in the new Sky Harbor ground school of aviation at 1801 South Michigan avenue, where 200 students will correlate their actual field flying instruction with the academic and technical classroom work. This is the second new downtown air college to be established in the last two weeks, the first being the Curtiss flying service's university at 1335 South Michigan avenue, which opened Sept. 16.

Thief Gets $400 Intended for Legion Convention Trip

Louis N. Simmons, La Salle street broker, who brought $400 in currency to his home at 1126 Ingleside avenue Saturday night to pay the expenses of his trip to the American Legion convention at Louisville, reported to the police yesterday that the money had been taken by a colored maid, Simmons said he would attend the convention anyway.

NEW AUSTRIAN BOSS CRIES 'NO' AND 'RIOTS' DIE

Feared "March on Vienna" Proves Fizzle.

BY JAY ALLEN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
VIENNA, Sept. 29.—Another stanza in that execrable Austrian drama that might very well be entitled "A Revolution in Slow Motion" was held today with the suburbs of this city as a stage, for its actors 50,000 men, more or less armed, and for motivation a class hatred of the bitterest sort.

There is a strong man in the saddle of Vienna in the person of the new chancellor, Johann Schober. The police and army are more than loyal to his person and he is sympathetic to Austrian fascism. So fascism's long heralded march on the stronghold of Austrian socialism did not materialize today.

Heimwehr leaders contented themselves with doing what they announced they would do, in four strategic suburbs of Vienna they formed their columns like four steel arrows, trained on the heart of Socialist Vienna as an object lesson to the Marxist leaders, who have a stranglehold on the city, what might be done in the event their opposition to certain constitutional changes is maintained. In Moedling, 10,000 Heimwehr marched, in Pöchlarn, 6,000; in Zwetl, 5,000, and in Stockerau, 10,000. The Schutzbunders were not quite as snappy looking as the Heimwehr, but they consider they were defending their own. Their leaders, one of whom was the former general in the Austro-Hungarian army, strung them out cleverly on every road leading to the city. Any Heimwehr move that looked like an advance would have precipitated a holocaust. Socialist dispatch riders on motorcycles reported every word and every gesture to headquarters, where the red flag flew.

Troops armed with fixed bayonets, and the armed gendarmerie did their utmost to keep the moving Heimwehr and Schutzbund bands from coming in contact. Neither wanted to apparently, but at Stockerau they did. A Schutzbund attempted to make a souvenir of a Fascist's helmet. Shots were fired and one Fascist was wounded. At Graz, which is out of the danger zone, the honors were about even. Twenty communists, caught inciting a Socialist attack on the green clad hosts, were arrested. One communist was stabbed in the arm in an affray at Moedling.

GRIPPE MALADY AGAIN ATTACKS MRS. VANDERBILT

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. was removed from the Ritz-Carlton hotel to the graduate hospital of the University of Pennsylvania today suffering from a recurrence of intestinal grippe. She is under the care there of Drs. C. G. Burden and E. E. Keene and two nurses.

Mr. Vanderbilt said his wife was suddenly seized with the attack yesterday upon their return from Newport, R. I. Her father, W. R. Weir of Davenport, Ia., has been informed of her illness, and Mr. Vanderbilt's parents, Gen. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, have been notified. They are now en route from New England to Philadelphia.

Violet Rays of Sunshine

not "artificial treatment"—make OLD GOLD
... a better and a smoother cigarette

OLD GOLD brought about a great change in smoking habits. It gave smokers a new freedom of enjoyment... without any forbidden limits and without the need for self-denial.

The man who used to say "I can't smoke until after lunch... my throat is sensitive in the morning" now finds that he can "light up" whenever he pleases. For his morning OLD GOLD has no more throat-scratch than his breakfast omelet.

Likewise all those who have to guard their throats... salesmen, singers, actors, public-speakers and the like... no longer have to stint their smokes, for OLD GOLD is as free of throat irritants as a glass of spring water.

Better tobaccos did it... naturally good tobaccos... extra-prime leaf made irritation-free by the violet rays of sunshine... not by "artificial treatment."

If you like food that is naturally good, instead of food made good by "artificial treatment"... you're sure to prefer OLD GOLD'S natural tobacco smoothness. Try a package... and get a vote of thanks from both your throat and taste.

BRITISH LABO TO PURGE PAR OF RADICAL

Will Drop "Socialist
Part of Name.

BY DAVID DARRA

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—[Continued]

With their enthusiasm dampened by the absence of leader, Prime Minister MacDonald's American mission, the Labor party opens its twenty-ninth conference at Brighton. The term of the leaders will be to the party of all remaining radicals, which the policy party in power has already begun to enslave the name "Socialist" and insisting on the word "and the official designation."

The week is expected to hold discussions of what the Labor party's future will be. Herbert Morrison, secretary of the party, will hold the floor and will probably discuss radical proposals.

Unemployment measures are expected for attention Tuesday, while Thursday, the party will be charged with remedying the situation, expounding the party's program.

Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, will discuss foreign affairs on Friday, when a pronouncement is expected regarding the attitude Britain will adopt toward the new Thursday Philip Snowden, leader of the exiles, who is prime minister during the absence of Mr. MacDonald, will take problems of finance and taxes.

The essential purpose of the convention is to revise the party's platform. With the dropping name "Socialist" the party will renounce its quasi-revolutionary attitude and announce itself as a genuine parliamentary representative labor.

May Repeal Anti-Strikes Bill

After a revision of the constitution and re-orientation of the party, certain specific measures the party's agenda will receive attention, notably the present legislation, of which a repeal is widely expected under the Labor.

Arthur Greenwood, minister of health, drew attention to the promised activity of the government when he visited the stoma of yesterday. Mr. MacDonald had to begin cleaning up the mess immediately on his return from the.

BRITISH LABOR TO PURGE PARTY OF RADICALISM

Drop "Socialist" as Part of Name.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

London, Sept. 30.—[Monday.]—

Their enthusiasm somewhat diminished by the absence of their leader, Prime Minister MacDonald, on his American mission, the Labor party today opened its twenty-ninth annual conference at Brighton. The first conference of the party will be to purge the party of all remaining traces of radicalism, which the policy of the party in power has already proved to be a failure. A feature of the labor group is the dropping of the name "Socialist" and substituting the word "Labor"
as the official designation.

The week is expected to hold many specimens of what the immediate and long-range concerns of the government will be. Herbert Morrison, minister of transport and chairman of the labor party, will hold the floor today, and will probably discuss railway development.

Mr. Morrison Unemployment.

Unemployment measures are scheduled for attention Tuesday, with J. H.
Thomas, lord of the privy seal, who will discuss the present situation, expanding the government's program.

Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, will discuss foreign affairs on Wednesday, when a pronouncement is expected regarding the attitude Great Britain will adopt toward Russia, while Thursday Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, who is acting as minister during the absence of Mr. MacDonald, will take up the problem of finance and taxation.
The essential purpose of the present conference is to revise the party's constitution. With the dropping of the name "Socialist" the party will definitely renounce its quasi-revolutionary attitude and announce itself as an organization devoted primarily to maintaining parliamentary representation in power.

By Repeal Anti-Strike Law.

After a revision of the constitution and representation of the party is settled, certain specific measures of the party's agenda will receive attention, notably the present anti-strike legislation, of which a repeal is constantly expected under the labor reform.

Arthur Greenwood, minister of health, drew attention to another activity of the government when he stated the aims of Brighton conference. Mr. MacDonald has promised to begin cleaning up the slums immediately on his return from America.

LINDY REACHES PANAMA CANAL ON RETURN HOP

CRISTOBAL, Panama, Canal Zone,
Sept. 29.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Franque Field at 4:45
p. m. after a flight from Cartagena, Columbia.

Two thousand persons braved the rain to see the aviator and his wife arrive. Soldiers held the crowd in check. Col. Lindbergh was presented to Col. Mars, commander of the field; Capt. Kerrick of the submarine base and Commander Bernhard of the Coco Solo air station.

Mrs. Lindbergh was the first to leave the rear cockpit, followed closely by Mrs. J. Tripp, wife of the president of the Pan-American Airways, Inc., who also was in the plane. They reported fine weather on their trip from Baranquilla until close to the Canal Zone.

2 Women, Hired as Clerks, Disappear with Receipts

The managers of two south side tea stores yesterday were searching for two mysterious young women who dropped from sight a few hours after being hired as clerks, in each instance taking along with them the contents of the cash drawer. One girl, claiming to be Mrs. M. McPherson, 453 West 81st street, disappeared from a store at 815 East 63d street, taking along $100 of the store's cash, and the other walked from behind the counter of a tea store at 658 East 63d street, taking along $80.

YOUTH SHOT BY POLICEMAN.

Paul Teller, 22 years old, 718 Home-street, was shot in the leg yesterday by Policeman Albert Rickett of Town Hall station after the policeman declared Teller attempted to draw a weapon when he ordered him to "move on."

PARIS FEARS FOR COSTE'S SAFETY IN 'FAR EAST' FLIGHT

PARIS, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Uneasiness was felt in Paris tonight when the sixtieth hour passed without word from Dieudonne Coste, the country's premier aviator, who hopped off from Le Bourget at 8:15 a. m. Friday for a long distance flight record.

Coste carried fuel sufficient to keep him aloft for 83 hours, which was reached at 10:15 a. m. today. The more optimistic at Le Bourget advanced the opinion that he may have landed in some out of the way place in Siberia and would be heard from

"The FINEST TONE IN RADIO"

Before you buy ANY radio you should hear the Bel Canto Amrad models. Words are incapable of describing the rich, mellow tone, a tone that will thrill you with its vivid quality.

The "ARIA"

This beautifully proportioned radio is a fine piece of living room furniture—just as striking and lovely when opened as closed. A master designer, an artist in art moderne furniture, created the Aria for Amrad, and you will agree the console is worthy of the radio set. For behind the illuminated dial is the heavily built, dependable Amrad chassis, using eight tubes including THREE SCREEN GRID TUBES, with a built-in nine-inch.
electric power speaker, mounted on a baffle board and matched with the chassis itself. The Aria comes to you with phonograph pick-up attachment, built-in antenna, dial calibrated in meters and kilocycles as well as other features.

HERE ARE SEVEN ORIGINAL

In the French Shop

From Patou, who understands every detail of fashion, come these hats. Are they not one of the most important collections presented this fall?

These styles were chosen to be of especial appeal to the American and her wardrobe of daytime clothes.

They have been copied in soleil and felt. Patou dahlia, brown, the greens, black are the important colors.

Originals, $45

Copies, $18.50 to $30

Fifth Floor, North, State.

Mephisto

A most sophisticated off-the-face hat. Calyx runs across the crown and is crushed at either side for individual effect in width. Combined with felt.

Don Carlos

An interesting raised front brim that is complementary to the long back trimmed in pompons. Sketched at the left.

Gandin

Sponsors the longer back which is fitted sleekly to the back of the head and neck with smart inset tuks and tailored arrowheads. Felt bound in grosgrain. Sketched right.

Bon Ton

A flare of brim at one side and low, close line at the other. It is deftly cut and in felt inset with grosgrain. At the left.

Dahlia

The Patou technique of manipulation is shown here in width of side in its most becoming manner. Felt is folded softly at the side—there are no cut and definite lines. At the right.

Astrakan

The brim blends a bow near the back that is tied in a casual manner. It gives a moulded line to the brimmed hat.

Ecaille

Velvet beret by Patou—how much interest these words create! For it seems a most perfect thing—a velvet beret by Patou. Sketched at left.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & CO

Omphale

Unmistakably Patou, with the extreme length of skirt and fullness that is fitted at the high waistline. The low decollete is held firmly over the shoulders with a narrow tie. Copied in the same heavy silk and color as the original, which is dahlia. Also Black, Blue and Ivory colors. For women.

$85

Fourth Floor, North, State.

Enigme

Fullness, long cut and designed in the skirt. Blouse cut low, ever so slightly full, and held with a wide crushed girle that does not mar a single slender line. Heavy crepe in Patou dahlia, black, and ivory. Copy for women.

$110

Fourth Floor, North, State.

Enchanteresse

Surely a model of the "Haute couture" with many intricate details that give the impression of continuous grace and line. With fullness low placed, a port bolero hangs from the back in a most amusing and sophisticated manner. Black, green, and peach-color moire. Copied for misses at $115

Fourth Floor, North, State.

Lily

Long lines handled as only Patou knows. Its short, jaunty bolero accents a fascinating slenderness through the waist. From here the skirt hangs in lines that conceal great fullness. Brown, Patou dahlia, blue and green canton crepe. This copy for misses.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

Patou

In His Most Gracious Mood Gives Us
These Frocks

The Patou silhouette has instilled the mode with an interesting tempo that will cast widespread influence. He shows that evening fashions express the more daring inspirations of the creator—that in the evening all is allowed and feminine elegance can be freely displayed. With day frocks practical considerations are indispensable, and these silhouettes do not show the new transformations so distinctly, but nevertheless they are there, oftentimes with a more subtle expression.

These evening gowns and daytime frock are among his most important and wearable models.

TURF MEN MOVE TO HAWTHORNE TRACK TODAY

All Reserved Seats Sold Out.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The race goes on back to Hawthorne this afternoon where a two week autumn season opens. Two events feature the first day's program, one a dash at six furlongs engaging a good band of sprinters and the other a battle at a mile and sixteenth which brings some of the better grade distance runners into action.

In the sprint the 3 year old Chicago owned Little Gyp from the stable of Kneibshaus and Morris was made the favorite. The veteran mare, Maddy Jane, owned by Morris Vahon of Chicago was the overnight choice in the Howard purse which calls for the distance struggle.

Seats Sold Out.

When the bugle calls the first field out at 2 o'clock this afternoon, it will mark the second short meeting of the year at the Hawthorne course. The summer season in August found record crowds congregated at the old Cohan track every afternoon and President John C. Shanks announced last night that all reserved seats had been sold for today's opening.

The $35,000 Gold Cup and two $5,000 races, one for 2 year olds and the other for 3 year olds, make up the stake program to be offered during the next 12 days. The rich Gold Cup, a weight for age event to be decided on Monday, Oct. 7, promises to provide one of the great struggles of the year on the American turf. Scheduled to be run on the day before the world series open at Cohan park, it may attract to Hawthorne the largest crowd ever assembled there.

Western Horses Here.

The western candidates for the rich race, with the exception of the Audley Farms Easter Stakes, are already quartered at Hawthorne. They include Minter, Helled Sticking, Golden Prince, Karl Elmal, Dowsagick, Blackwood, and Lady Broadback. From the east late this week will come Willis Sharp, Kilmier, Sun Bean, the Wheatley stable's Diavolo and Distracted. Mrs. John D. Hertz's Fair Ball, and J. R. Macomber's Peter Wrack.

For the 3 year old stake which will be at a mile with $5,000 in added money at the prize, Dedicate, Fred A. Burton's fleet son of Dodge-On Time, will likely be a starter. He is not engaged in Maryland or Kentucky and in Mr. Burton's plan to race him in Chicago at every opportunity.

Dedicate won the Eastern Horse handicap at Havre De Grace Saturday. It was a $25,000 event and all the eastern leaders except Distracted and Bootleg were in the field to which he showed his heels. Dedicate became a great favorite with Chicago crowds when he won all three of the starts he made at Arlington last July.

The official family for the Hawthorne autumn season is the same as the one which served at the summer meeting with one exception. T. C. Bradley and Sam Nuckolls have been relieved of their duties in the stewards' stand and Martin Nathanson of Chicago will serve with Joseph A. Murphy on the board of stewards.

SLAVIA SOCCER TEAM DEFEATS SPARTA, 4 TO 1

The Cleveland Slavia soccer team defeated Sparta yesterday at Sparta field, 2-4 and Kater, by a score of 4 goals to 1, in an Inter-city league game.

Viola opened the scoring for Sparta after thirty-five minutes play with a shot from close in, but Slavia tied it up a few minutes later, Densell being the marksmen. Hallet, Densell, and Bouché scored for Slavia in the second half.

BRICKYARDS WIN, 4-3

The Bricklayers, Midwest league champions, defeated Vienna, 4 to 3, at De Paul field, Sheffield and Webster arenas, in a Midwest league game.

The Bricklayers led by two goals at half time, Corbet and Patterson scoring. In the second half the latter again netted the ball and Scott scored from a penalty kick. Kirchner was responsible for both Vienna's goals.

JUGO SLAVS WIN.

Jugo Slavs won from Olympia at Cogan park by a 1 to 0 score.

Mills Divide Twin Bill

Dividing a doubleheader with a packed team of minor league stars, the Mills, pennant winners in the Chicago semi-pro league, were defeated yesterday, 4 to 2, in the tenth inning of the opener but came back to take the afternoon, 5 to 1. The last contest was called at the end of five innings due to darkness. The Mills rushed over three runs in the fifth for the victory.

MANY BIRDS FIND GRAVES IN OCEAN WHILE MIGRATING

BY BOB BECKER.

The fall migration of our North American birds means food, comfort and safety to the large majority which leave their northern nesting grounds and fly south, but there is another side to this great semi-annual movement of birds which shows a different picture. Flying at night, thousands of migrants meet their death in the effort to negotiate the long routes to winter rest grounds.

Storms which catch them when they are over ocean or large lakes, light-houses along the coasts which attract and blind them with their brilliant beams, high objects like tall monuments in the life of flight, account for the deaths of countless thousands during September and October.

Migration Full of Peril.

In fact, migration time is a season full of peril for our North American birds. Many hazards which may claim their lives are on the flying routes which the feathered travelers follow. The little humming bird which visited the blossoms in your yard this summer, the warblers, small and gayly colored, which come down from the north, the thrushes which filled our woodlots with songs—these and millions of other birds that all of us are acquainted with face that great hazard, the Caribbean sea. Night after night during the fall and spring millions of our North American birds wing their way through the darkness which covers the Caribbean. And many are pulled down into the waves to a watery grave when caught by storms.

Cornell May Have Edge.

In these feuds Cornell will be meeting two teams at any rate which are not supposed to be in their full traditional strength this season. Dartmouth has a new coach and more than any other team that I know of is depending on one player, Al Marston. Pennsylvania, specializing in sleight of hand tricks, must use a new set of men to perform them this season, due to the graduation of the boys who became faddled the Harvard team last year. Mr. Horween, the Harvard coach, said he was always expecting Mr. Shober of the Penn back field to borrow a plug hat from some one in the stands and produce a bowl of goldfish from it, his locus-potus was that sly.

Many Die at Lighthouses.

Many records on the casualties of migration come from observers who have maintained night watches in lighthouses. Nearly all of our light-houses along our coasts are on well traveled migration routes. Their powerful lights attract myriads of birds. The birds fly against the glass enclosing the light, thus killing themselves, or else flutter against the structure to fall exhausted to the ground or in the water.

There are two lights on the southern tip of Florida, right on the migration route, which are killers. One is the Somboro light, located on a reef which we have visited for salt water fishing. Many bird tragedies have been caused by this beacon.

How many deaths a tall lighted object may inflict upon our migrating bird population may be determined when the record of just one on the eastern coast is revealed. Observers once counted as high as seven hundred dead birds around it in the course of a month.

NEW GRID PLAYS? THEY'RE JUST OLD STUFF DONE OVER

Hoary Ones, It Seems,
Go On Forever.

Warner's attitude toward football. Mr. Doble had a bad season at Cornell last year, followed by a kind of student insurrection against the interference of the alumni with the athletic affairs of the undergraduates. There were editorials in the school paper, and very well written and thought out, too, attempting to repulse the alumni and, as the plaintive phrase goes, give the game back to the students.

I do not believe the game ever will be given back to the students. The pressure from the outside is so strong that they cannot hope to stand against it. Even at Cornell, the first school at which the students put up an aggressive resistance, this year's results will be very important in the professional life of the coach. Cornell has several favorite enemies or traditional rivals, namely Dartmouth, Columbia, and Pennsylvania, and Doble has two craves of fast, nimble back field men to serve his ambitions. They score nice touchdowns in their opening games against Clarkson Tech, which, of course, is no more significant than the northwestern back field men to serve his ambitions. They score nice touchdowns in their opening games against Clarkson Tech, which, of course, is no more significant than the northwestern back field men to serve his ambitions.

at $2,987,084,424 at the end of the preceding week, a compilation of Lane & Co. disclosed. There were fifteen of these issues listed and traded in a year ago and the aggregate total value of this group showed an increase for the year of $572,621,048, or 17.95 per cent.

Exception to Trend.

An exception in the general list was Hall Printing, which finished the week with a net gain of 4½ points. The action followed the announcement that a big increase in earnings is expected and that this will probably be reflected by an increase in the dividend rate around the first of the year. Consideration toward raising the stock in

New York was also a factor.

In the utility group, Central and South West Utilities was off 17%. Commonwealth Edison was down 15 points on sales of only 2,250 shares. Associated Telephone Utilities was off a point.

Associated Telephone Utilities will offer, through a syndicate headed by Paine, Webber & Co., today an issue of 50,000 shares of $5 cumulative preferred, of sales of 4,100 cumulative.

Three purchase warrants will accompany each share of preferred, entitling the owner to buy one share of common at $42 a share to Dec. 31.

A dark, vertical, textured surface, possibly a book cover or a piece of wood, with a lighter, vertical strip along the left edge. The texture is grainy and uneven, with some lighter spots and darker areas. The strip on the left is a lighter shade of gray, while the rest of the image is a dark, almost black, gray.
